Mayor Walker Faces Trial For His Political Life

GIVEN RIGHT BY GOVERNOR TO EXAMINE

Dapper Chief Executive of New York City Winner of Roosevelt Ruling ROUSING RECEPTION

Huge Crowd on Hand at Opening of Hearing That May Cost Walker's Post

BULLETIN
STATE CAPITAL, Albany, N. Y., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt today ruled that Mayor James J. Walker should be permitted to cross-examine witnesses who have testified against him, in the hearing that will determine whether he is to be ousted from his $40,000 a year position.

The decision was a signal victory for the mayor, whose counsel fought for an hour "to protect Walker's constitutional rights." Mayor Walker, a slight and sober figure, stood at the bar today before Roosevelt and defended his political integrity and conduct as the mayor of the largest city in the Western World.

Facing him, in the most dramatic political trial since Governor William Sulzer was impeached by a grim staff of six assistants, who for two years have pursued doggedly a trail of circumstances by which they hope to drive the popular mayor out of office.

The 96th mayor of New York—and the first burgomaster ever to face trial for alleged misfeasance or malfeasance in office—was tight lipped and serious as he entered the crowded judgment chamber.

Given Reception
The mayor was given a rousing reception when he strode into the executive chamber. He was 11 minutes early.

Hundreds of his loyal supporters, headed by men with whom he sat in the state legislature years ago, jammed the corridors and sought to pat him on the back as police struggled to make way.

Walker was charged with having accepted "gifts" and gratuities amounting to thousands of dollars, and with being unable to account for approximately $1,000,000 alleged to have been deposited for him in the accounts of the missing Russell T. Sherwood, his purported financial secretary.

Governor Roosevelt, whose presidential political fortunes were to an appreciable extent bound up in whatever decision he might make, formally called upon the mayor at 1:35 p. m. to make his defense.

Both Walker and his arch-foe, Seabury, were dressed in blue- serge suits—a more somber touch than is usual in the dapper New York executive. In strange uniformity Governor Roosevelt had abandoned his customary white silk to wear blue.

Aimee Hutton And Husband Leave on Trip

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Accompanied by her husband, David L. Hutton, and her nurse, Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, was on a "trip to nowhere" today.

She expected to be gone about three weeks, it was revealed.

Mrs. Hutton had been confined to her Lake Elsinore home for more than a month, recovering from a fractured skull, the result of a fall, and an illness contracted in Central America.

REVOLT LEADER AT SEVILLE UNDER ARREST

Entire Party is Captured Single Handed by Policeman at Huelva

HUELVA, Spain, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Gen. Jose San Jurjo, fleeing leader of the disorganized monarchistic revolt at Seville, was captured with his entire party by a single policeman today.

San Jurjo, intending to cross the Portuguese border at Ayamonte, entered the outskirts of Huelva, at 6:10 a. m. He was in an automobile with his son, Artillery Capt. Justo San Jurjo, a retired brigadier-general, Garcia Herranz, and the driver. Following them was an automobile with a bodyguard consisting of Lt. Col. Emilio Estela, an unnamed lieutenant of the civil guards, and four civil guards.

San Jurjo's car halted to ask a policeman the way. The policeman, recognizing San Jurjo, leveled his rifle and ordered them to surrender. San Jurjo resignedly alighted and said to the policeman:

"I congratulate you on your bearing. With only a rifle you forced us to surrender when there were four of us, armed."

San Jurjo was sent to Madrid.

Celebrating Mobs Kill Civil Guards

SEVILLE, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Mobs surging through the streets in celebration of the republican victory over the rebels got out of hand today, burned buildings and killed a civil guard.

The plant of the newspaper A B C was burned, as were three aristocratic clubs, the Circulo de Labradores, Mercantile Union and La Flanbrera.

Vast throngs surged through the streets, cheering the republic, carrying republican flags and threatening monarchists.

The quick breaking of the revolt showed how little real hold the monarchal movement had on the people. When news was received that regular army troops were on the way, many supporters of Gen. Jose San Jurjo, leader of the revolt, declared they would not fight their brothers.

His followers began leaving until only a handful remained. They advised him to flee, but he refused at first, saying it was cowardly to run away.

At 1:30 a. m., however, he left by automobile and later was reported captured. The constituted authorities at once returned to their quarters and the revolt was over.

DIVIDEND DECLARED BY UNION PACIFIC

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad company today declared a dividend of $150 a share on the common stock, the same payment as three months ago. The dividend is payable October 1 to stock of record September 1.

Important personnel changes were made. Charles B. Seger resigned as chairman of the executive committee to be succeeded by F. W. Chaberske, who has been vice chairman. W. M. Jeffers, who has been vice president in charge of operations, was elected to the newly created office of executive vice president. The office of vice president in charge of operations and vice chairman of the executive committee were abolished.

HITLER WILL BE OFFERED CHANCELLORSHIP TOMORROW

SOVIET RUSSIA TO SELL BONDS TO FOREIGNERS

Organized Effort Will Be Made to Attract Foreign Capital

MOSCOW, Aug. 11.—(UP)—An organized campaign to attract foreign capital to the Soviet Union on a straight investment basis by selling the latest internal loan to foreigners for foreign currency, is to be launched shortly by the Russian government.

Sale of the bonds would guarantee payment of interest and redemption of principal on the basis of the ruble's value on gold.

Because of the economic crisis abroad, the Soviet government will offer the 10-year loan at 10 per cent interest. It will undertake to buy back the bonds, at any time without notice, and at their face value plus the accrued interest, payable in any foreign currency.

Repayment would be on the basis of the unfluctuating gold standard and thus, in effect, would guarantee the investment against currency fluctuations.

Arrangements have been made with leading banks in America, England and other countries to act as correspondents.

The United Press learned that many millions of dollars worth of the bonds already have been sold to foreigners without solicitation.

Hundreds of letters asking for information were received by the commissariat of finance. This led officials to organize the drive on a much larger scale.

It was indicated that no attempt would be made to solicit purchasers directly in the United States, because of possible objections at Washington.

The prospectus of the campaign will be issued shortly. It says in part, that "in view of the disorganized state of the foreign financial markets and the risks attached to most securities, Soviet government bonds are to be issued on a gold basis, not subject to stock market fluctuations. These bonds will offer the investor a stable, highly profitable and tax exempt security, as well as insurance against possible depreciations or loss of his assets."

LABOR OFFICIAL IS KILLED BY GUNMEN

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Aug. 11.—(UP)—East St. Louis was placed under virtual martial law today as 100 extra police and sheriff's deputies guarded the district where a labor union official was slain and two other men wounded.

Alden Moore, 37, business agent for the Boiler Makers Union, was slain by machine gun fire late last night as he stood talking to Charles Duncan, 43, and Benjamin Rector, 44, both of whom were wounded slightly.

Duncan and Rector were seated in an automobile in front of the Central Trades building, labor union headquarters, talking with Moore, who was standing beside the machine, when the killers' automobile roared through the street.

Klotz and his passengers managed to reach safety in a life boat and firemen from Laguna Beach swam out, put a tow line on the yacht and brought it to shore where the flames were extinguished. A 600 gallon tank of gasoline in the engine room did not explode, due to the fast work of the firemen.

Reporters At Least Not Mind Readers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican National Committee, a punctilious person, arrived from Chicago for the Presidential notification ceremonies and called a press conference.

He sat in his suite at the Mayflower hotel. The hour he had set came and Sanders sat and waited, but nobody appeared.

He discovered he had failed to notify any of the reporters.

JURY SELECTED IN FRANK EGAN MURDER TRIAL

Six Men and Six Women to Determine if Former Defender Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Six men and six women, chosen after three days' questioning, entered the jury box in Superior Judge Frank H. Dunne's courtroom today, prepared to determine whether Frank Egan, former public defender, and Albert Tinnin, his ex-convict friend, killed Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes.

Special guards were posted along the corridors leading to the court as hundreds battled to witness opening of the trial.

Prosecuting Attorney Isadore M. Golden said he would ask for an adjournment until Friday after selection of two alternate jurors.

Golden said the three day struggle even the jury, in which 173 veniremen were questioned, had exhausted him.

Should Judge Dunne deny the motion Golden and Vincent Hallinan, defense attorney, were to deliver their opening speeches to the jury.

Egan, according to the prosecution, planned Mrs. Hughes' death to obtain $11,000 insurance money.

10 Have Narrow Escape In Blast Aboard Cruiser

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 11.—Ten persons aboard the cabin cruiser Mikado had a narrow escape from death off Emerald Bay early this afternoon when an explosion threatened complete destruction of the $35,000 yacht.

A. Klotz, of Los Angeles, the owner and nine guests were eating lunch in the stern when a terrific blast wrecked the bow.

Klotz and his passengers managed to reach safety in a life boat and firemen from Laguna Beach swam out, put a tow line on the yacht and brought it to shore where the flames were extinguished. A 600 gallon tank of gasoline in the engine room did not explode, due to the fast work of the firemen.

BEARS TURNED BACK AS STOCK MARKET ACTIVE

Heavy Profit Taking Overcome Toward Close of Trading Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Heavy profit taking today temporarily interrupted the rise on the stock exchange, but it was absorbed before the close and prices resumed their upward journey, the majority closed higher.

When the leaders translated their paper profits into hard cash in the afternoon, the setback brought the list down fractions to more than 2 points, the most severe decline since the market turned upward from the bear market lows.

Trading again exceeded 4,000,000 shares, bringing the business for the week to date—four days—to around 18,000,000 shares, or more than any full week since June 25, 1931, when the total for 5 1-2 days amounted to 21,603,366 shares.

The market opened with a rush of buying orders on volume at a rate of 9,000,000 shares for a full day. First half hour sales of 900,000 shares were the largest for a similar period since September 21, 1931, when they totaled 1,100,000 shares.

On the reaction later in the day volume lightened, increasing again on the late recovery.

For a time after the opening the buying rush was so heavy that tickers were unable to keep pace. They ran 7 minutes late, gradually catching up until the end of the first hour when they were even with the market. By noon the total volume was 2,200,000 shares.

By 1:30 this had been increased to 3,200,000 shares. Then business slowed up to 2:10 when the day's total was 3,500,000 shares.

At the opening block of 1000 shares appeared. Later on other large amounts were turned over.

General Motors again featured in volume and heavy trading on the upside was recorded in International Telephone. Long strings of International Harvester and J. I. Case were reminiscent of the bull market days of 1928 and 1929.

Recognized leaders bore the brunt of profit-taking. Pool operators brought out new favorites. The sudden upward movement of International Telephone had earned a new pool manipulation. Postal Telegraph preferred followed International Telephone.

American Telephone made a new high on the movement in the early trading at 116 1-2. It subsequently fell to 113 3-4, but rallied to around 114 before the close, against a previous close of 113 3-8. Utilities were mixed with Consolidated Gas down more than a point and North American slightly higher.

Bonds held the major portion of a substantial rise made in active turnover. Wheat sold off 13-4 to 21-2 cents a bushel.

Corn made small gains. Cotton was up about 31 late in the day about where it was at the opening, having gone through a reaction and recovery in the interval. Silver soared on heavy turnover in the futures market; sugar held about steady after early firmness. Rubber futures made new highs of the move and reacted from the highs, holding part of the gains.

UNION PACIFIC IN PLEA FOR INCREASE

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 11.—(UP)—The Union Pacific today had presented its demands to an interstate commerce commission hearing for higher freight rates on petroleum products in western states.

Increased rates, requested by the road through L. T. Wilcox, Omaha, assistant traffic manager, would affect only longer hauls. There would be practically no change for consignments in the 500 mile radius. On longer hauls increases would range from one to 13 cents per hundred pounds.

The hearings are being conducted by Claude R. Porter, commission chairman.

Nazi Leader To Realize His Desires

Von Hindenburg Will Meet Fascist Leader Friday in Crucial Parley

BERLIN, Aug. 11.—(UP)—President Paul von Hindenburg, confronted with a rising tide of Fascism and the menace of Adolf Hitler's mobilizing "storm troops," will grant an audience to Hitler tomorrow to offer him the chancellorship.

The rapid developments of the last few days have brought the Fascist leader at last to his goal. Von Hindenburg, however, was expected to attach four conditions, and it was doubted if Hitler would accept. The conditions are:

1. The constitution must be respected.
2. The Fascist militia must not be employed as auxiliary police.
3. There must be no equality between the Fascist militia and the reichswehr, or regular army.
4. There must be no party government relying on the "storm" detachments for support.

Suspense Prevails

Great suspense over the outcome of the audience prevailed. Von Hindenburg will first do his utmost to persuade Hitler to renounce his claim to the chancellorship, and agree merely to Nazi participation in the cabinet. Hitler was not expected to agree.

Meanwhile, the 13th anniversary of the proclamation of the German constitution was observed officially today under strange circumstances.

While 10,000 persons surged in the open space fronting the reichstag, Constitution day was celebrated in the reichstag chamber in the presence of Von Hindenburg, the cabinet, other prominent persons and foreign diplomats.

They heard Chancellor Franz von Papen and Baron Wilhelm von Gayl, interior minister, make speeches acknowledging the fundamental aspects of the constitution, but emphasizing that it must be changed radically.

Striking Irony

There was striking irony in the monarchist-minded government commemorating the republic's birth at the moment when Hitler—avowedly a deadly enemy of democracy—was about to be offered the chancellorship.

It was a question whether the government was celebrating the republic's birthday or officiating at its funeral.

42,000 MINERS TO RETURN TO PLACES

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 11.—(UP)—The Illinois coal fields, stagnant since last March, today surged with activity as mine operators prepared to send nearly 42,000 men back to work.

The men will go back to the coal pits as a result of a new wage agreement providing a basic $5 a day scale signed by officers of the United Mine Workers union.

The livelihood of nearly 150,000 persons is affected by the agreement.

DRY LEADERS MEET IN SEATTLE TODAY

SEATTLE, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Whether delegates to the 58th national convention of the women's Christian Temperance Union endorse President Hoover in his campaign for re-election depended today on his acceptance speech.

Mrs. Ella Alexander Boole, president of the union, and other eastern leaders who arrived here aboard the "white ribbon special" awaited his remarks on the Republican prohibition platform with some trepidation.

They hoped he would uphold prohibition, and ride rough-shod over the resubmission plank adopted at the Chicago convention. If he does, the convention undoubtedly will support him this year as strongly as it did in 1923.

Clerk Starts Long Swim Across Channel

DOVER, Eng., Aug. 11.—(UP)—E. H. Temme, London insurance clerk, entered the water at South Foreland at 8:35 a. m. today in an attempt to swim the English channel. He succeeded in swimming from France to England in 1927.

Miss Sonny Lowry, who started the swim yesterday afternoon, was forced to give up today by the intensely cold water when she was within four miles of her goal, Cape Gris Nez, France.

JOHN GILBERT IS BRIDEGROOM FOR 4TH TIME

Married to Virginia Bruce at His Bungalow After Work Last Night

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 11.—(UP)—John Gilbert, famous screen lover, was a bridegroom for the fourth time today, married to Virginia Bruce, a blonde beauty on the threshold of a motion picture career.

The nuptials took place at dusk last night in Gilbert's bungalow on the Metro-Goldwyn Mayer lot, a site selected by the couple for romantic reasons.

It was on Stage Number 22, just across the street from the bungalow, that they met a few short months ago when Miss Bruce went to Stage 22 for a screen test and Gilbert, gazing from a window of the bungalow, saw her enter and followed to seek an introduction.

Sixteen guests were present, including Irving Thalberg, studio executive, as best man, and Mrs. Donald Ogden Stewart, wife of the writer, as matron of honor.

Rev. J. Hamilton Lash, Congregational minister, performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, Earl Frederick Briggs.

The wedding was one which could take place only in Hollywood. Thirty minutes before Miss Bruce became the wife of the screen lover she was playing the part of an unloved daughter of Walter Huston, who portrayed an African trader in a picture called "Congo."

Director William C. Cowen, with his eye on his schedule, declined to dismiss her until 5:30 p. m. At that time Miss Bruce was plastered with phoney African mud and artificial perspiration—the result of cruelty of Huston in locking his daughter in an African mud hut to please the whim of his screen sweetheart, who was Lupe Velez.

Gilbert, with the wedding set for 6 p. m., nervously paced his bungalow and finally took up a station outside Miss Bruce's dressing room.

Promptly at 5:45 o'clock she appeared, radiant in a black organza gown, trimmed in white. She was a living tribute to the artistry of the studio makeup crew.

Gilbert was dressed in a dark business suit. He was alternately happy and nervous as a good bridegroom should be. His long experience as a film lover gave him no confidence as he was married in real life.

"I'm glad it is over," he said after the ceremony. "There was no use in waiting. We are very much in love and will be very happy together."

Gilbert's first wife was Olivia Burwell, his second, Leatrice Joy and the third, Ina Claire. The latter two are celebrated actresses.

Miss Bruce, who is 21 years old and one of Hollywood's most promising younger actresses, never had been married before.

The honeymoon will be postponed due to screen work.

ADVISORY BOARD TO R. F. C. IS CHOSEN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(UP)—An advisory board to assist the reconstruction finance corporation in passing on applications for loans for self-liquidating construction projects was organized here today.

The board is composed of Dr. Charles D. Marx of Stanford university, California, chairman; John F. Coleman, New Orleans; John Lyle Harrington, Kansas City; John Herbert Gregory, Baltimore, and Major General Lyle Brown, chief of army engineers.

WILL ACCEPT REPUBLICAN NOMINATION

Republican Leaders Arrive in Washington Bringing Optimistic Words

DRYS AWAIT SPEECH

National Committee Called to Meet Today and to Prepare for Campaign

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—(UP)—President Hoover made ready today to lay before the country the personal platform on which he seeks reelection.

Scores of Republican leaders from every state brought encouraging word, though recognizing that a hard fight lies ahead.

Business revival and prohibition were almost universally listed as the two most important factors in the coming election.

Spectacular stock market gains, bullish crop reports and activities designed to encourage commodity price advances all combined to make Republicans more cheerful than at any time in the last three years.

What President Hoover says in his acceptance speech tonight on prohibition was awaited with keen suspense.

A colorful luncheon and garden party at the White House was arranged as the chief social function.

Mr. Hoover will speak at D. A. R. constitutional hall at 9 p. m. Every important Republican politician in the country will be present with few exceptions. Vice-President Curtis is at home in Topeka where he will be formally notified of his nomination August 18. Former President Coolidge declined an invitation. The White House said any fever prevented Coolidge from coming.

The widow of former president Theodore Roosevelt, and two of the Roosevelt children, Alice Roosevelt Longworth and Mrs. Ethel Derby, were assigned consoling duties.

MARRIED WOMEN TO TAKE YEAR LEAVE

FRESNO, Calif., Aug. 11.—(UP)—Married women employees of the San Joaquin Light & Power company, whose husbands earn sufficient to support them, today were ordered to take a year's leave of absence without pay.

E. P. Smith, vice-president of the corporation, announced that his policy had been adopted to provide employment for persons who are supporting families.

The order will affect 12 Fresno women and 13 others at various places in the San Joaquin valley, he said. Seventy-three women employed throughout the system will be affected, he said.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

(To the Editor of The Register: Well, today is the big surprise day for Mr. Hoover. He is to be notified, not beatified, just notified. They are going to tell him that he is to have the extreme pleasure of having nothing on his mind for the next four years but this country. A poor man who has had more hard times thrust on him than any man that ever occupied that high position. Then to have a bunch come who were endeavoring to sentence you for four more years, that almost comes under the heading of a blow. By the way, Jimmie Walker is to have his notification today, too. And oh, yes, Japan is sore at Stimson again. Poor Japan, Stimson has kept those little fellows worried worse than they have our swimmers.

HOOVER OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN THIS EVENING

spacious places at the acceptance ceremonies.

The Republican national executive committee was called to meet today with Everett Sanders, national chairman. Practical details of the campaign were up. Sanders said the campaign would start "bright and early" tomorrow morning, but speakers probably would not take the road until the middle of September.

Tonight's acceptance speech marks the formal opening of the presidential campaign. Governor Roosevelt made his acceptance speech at the Chicago Democratic convention the day following his nomination. He said he wished to save the party the expense of assembling again for notification ceremonies.

President Hoover is expected to be guided closely by the Republican platform.

The two parties are widely at issue on prohibition. The Democratic platform recommends repeal of the 18th amendment and immediate restoration of beer. The Republican platform recommends only submission of the question to the country, and takes no stand as to whether the amendment should be stricken out.

CAMPAIGN TO SELECT ROAD NAMES BEGINS

Holding their first session this morning the recently formed street naming committee of the Orange county planning commission, adopted an organization policy and named three sub-committees to launch a campaign for uniform naming of three highways that traverse the county.

These sub-committees were appointed at the suggestion of Jules Markel, secretary of the planning commission. He suggested that these separate groups be appointed to work for changes on one certain road. This idea he said would be more efficient as hostility would be met in connection with every highway and a special group could handle the situation with greater ease than could the entire body.

At the beginning of the session

PIONEER NURSE OF SANTA ANA PASSES AWAY

After a lifetime of service for others, Miss Jane Murdy, one of the first nurses of this community, passed away this morning at her home at the Freeman Blood-sword apartments on North Main street. Death came at the age of 86.

Miss Murdy arrived in Orange county in 1887, coming to join her sister, Mrs. Lizette Yetter, who had preceded her by a few months and who had established her home on North Ross street. The two sisters were the only survivors of their family of seven. Mrs. Yetter's home is at Huntington Beach. She is now in the city as the guest of Mrs. Dora Spangler, North Birch street, and is the only living relative of the aged nurse.

Born in Throld, Can., March 26, 1845, Miss Murdy was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Murdy, her father having been a surgeon in the British army. Miss Murdy received her training as a nurse in the Industrial School of Halifax, a school under the control of the Church of England, which was supervised by a nurse trained by Florence Nightingale at the St. Thomas Hospital in London.

While engaged in nursing, Miss Murdy officiated at the births of 525 babies, many of whom she has watched grow up to man and womanhood and become prominent citizens of the county. It was Miss Murdy who closed the eyes of Madame Modjeska when she died at Newport. The pioneer nurse had outlived all but two of the physicians with whom she worked in early days here.

Working with Dr. C. D. Ball and other pioneer physicians, Miss Murdy shared the hardships they underwent. She aided in operations, many of which were performed with the use of an operating table hastily improvised from kitchen tables. She also shared the trips over deeply rutted roads over the county when doctors of the community were called to distant points and made the trips in buckboards.

Mrs. Murdy also was a nurse but did not nurse here to any great extent after coming to Santa Ana. Miss Murdy was so well known in medical circles that her biography was included in the history of Orange county physicians, published by Dr. C. D. Ball a few years ago.

Miss Murdy's career as a nurse has seldom been equaled. She nursed in the wilds of Labrador and in Canada before coming to California. She was a member of the Episcopal church.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind the News

WASHINGTON

By Paul Mallon

MOVIES

The movie pulled a piece of war-time censorship for the administration in the B. E. F. battle.

Most news reels made it look like Washington cheered on the soldiers; the president had to call out the troops; and only a few Communists were involved. All actual fighting shots were thrown out.

The nimble hand of Will Hays is said to have worked the trick. The unofficial excuse given was that the distortions and deletions were made so people out in the country would not be aroused. One news reel organization which accepted the orders from higher-up on that ground. They did not intend it as a favor to the administration.

There are strong indications that Hays is holding a powerful seat behind the curtain in this campaign. As a former Republican National chairman he is friendly to the Hoover cause. He sits in some of the inner councils via telephone. Some think he is the shrewdest politician in the whole outfit.

B. E. F.

The Washington press corps was howling mad at War Secretary Hurley's statement that the B. E. F. was driven out in a humane and considerate way. The statement questioned the reporter's accuracy of every man who saw the movie. Incidentally Hurley did not see it.

One reporter started circulating a petition naming Hurley's inaccuracies in strong words. His associates quieted him.

Hurley was right in saying the soldiers did not fire the Anacostia camp. They did fire all other camps. The reason they did not at Anacostia was that the B. E. F. beat them to it. He was inaccuracy of every man who saw seriously hurt.

GOLD CHEST

Things are looking up for the Republican campaign chest. Jeremiah Milbank, suave old sandbagger of past campaigns, is getting out the cudgeling apparatus in New York. The inner circle is delighted at prospects of raising from $5,000,000 to $5,000,000.

They say the Roosevelt campaigners will be cheerful if they get $2,000,000.

DEBTS

The administration heard with surprise that Senator Borah got over well with his debt revision idea before a Minneapolis audience. Private reports indicated his confidence is being able to sell that idea to the farmers.

This development may encourage the president to go through with his proposed bold move in that direction.

The best information here holds 10 to 1 that the debt matter will be settled amicably soon after the election.

DEMOCRATS

Bad Democratic reports are seeping out of New England. The Al Smith crowd is not coming through. The Roosevelt people expected the Gov. Ely endorsement to be a lot stronger than it was. They were privately not very well satisfied with it.

Furthermore Smith himself appears to be playing political hide-and-seek.

These matters probably will be straightened out for Democratic harmony before election but they are coming along more slowly than had been expected.

The situation shows a striking contrast between Republicans and Democrats. Some Republicans did not want Hoover any more than Smith wanted Roosevelt. They are, however, presenting the appearance of a united front for the campaign.

Democrats in Massachusetts, Alabama, Oregon and Minnesota are four different species. The Democratic leadership must waste time getting them together which Republicans use in fighting the enemy.

NOTES

The R. F. C. repudiation of Gov. Pinchot's relief request was a putup job. The administration has been laying for Pinchot since his early agitation for federal relief. The R. F. C. was armed by it with an answer to Pinchot's arguments before he appeared. General MacArthur's trip to Poland was arranged before he became involved in the B. E. F. difficulties.

The Kansas primary was encouraging to the administration but the inside dope here now is that it expects to lose the home state of the vice-president to Roosevelt unless things change. The government is privately trying to discourage the idea that remonetization of silver will come out of the proposed economic conference. For publication it says the conference will deal almost entirely with the subject of "world commodity prices".

Actually that means they may take in everything. A western states silver man will be on the American delegation to that conference. It probably will be Smoot's man Monte Perry.

him on his home in Alhambra and that was their destination at the time of the fatal accident.

The Calvins had rented a cottage at 358 Flora street, Arch Beach. Stanat had just completed the building of a new home at Three Arches. He leaves a widow and a 10-month-old son.

Masonic funeral services will be held for Stanat at the Laguna Beach Funeral home following the inquest. Funeral services for Mrs. Calvin will take place in Alhambra.

The seventh appearance of the Santa Ana Municipal band in its series of 10 weekly summer concerts will be made tonight in Birch Park, beginning promptly at 7:30 o'clock. This evening's program will be dominated by the music of France and is expected to attract a large audience.

Holding a prominent place on this evening's program will be a selection from "Carmen" which was composed by Bizet in 1875, and is considered the most successful of Bizet's many attractive works, as well as an especially significant contribution to operatic literature. The Santa Ana Municipal chorus will take part in the program tonight, presenting numbers from "High Jinks" and "Prince of Pilsen."

This evening's program is as follows:

March, "Le Concours de Montebue" (Langlois); overture, "Mignon" (A. Thomas); selection, "Faust" (Gounod); Reverie, (a) "La Voix des Cloches" (A. Lugliani), (b) "Organ Offertoire" (Bastiste); selection, "Carmen" (Bizet).

Vocal, (a) "Tingle-Inglen" from "High Jinks" (Prin); (b) "The Message of the Violet" from "Prince of Pilsen" (Luders).

Musical Joke, "The Jolly Musicians" (C. Muscat); march, "Notre Drapeau" (Our Flag), (Amedel).

Death Notices

A WORD OF COMFORT

Those whose faith has transformed the world have learned the secret of life amid suffering. They found God after they were shut away from some of life's activities in which they craved to indulge.

It seems that much of the flavor and charm of life is blasted by your grief; but God is unchanged. Although the world seems oblivious to your pain, He shares it with you and in His companionship there is joy and peace.

Candidates Give Talks at Meeting

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 11.—Yesterday's Harbor Service club luncheon meeting at the El Portal was featured by the presence of Lyman King and Judge H. G. Ames, both of whom gave short talks. Ames and King are both candidates for office and the theme of their talks were along the lines of the present economic conditions for most part.

Ames is a candidate to succeed himself as judge of the superior court and King is candidate for the Republican nomination for representative to congress from the 19th district.

President Leroy Anderson was absent and Dr. Conrad Richter occupied the chair at the meeting and Jack Twist the secretary of the club who has been absent much on account of ill health was among those present yesterday.

LOS ANGELES—(UP)—Patrolman B. Quick was quick, but the yegs were quicker. Hearing an explosion, he rushed to the scene. The robbers had blown the safe and escaped with $125.

BOOST RATES FOR SCHOOLS AND WELFARE

The public hearing on the proposed county budget calling for expenditures of $6,581,522, a drop of $1,309,151 from last year's expenditures, has been set for August 19 in the supervisors' room.

Budget demands of all but three departments of the county government have been cut to figures that will lower proposed tax rates for the various departments, according to County Auditor William Lambert.

According to the list of budget requests for this year, recently released by Lambert, proposed tax rate for welfare, county schools and county high schools has been increased and a new 15 per cent rate included in the proposed set up to create funds in the county's unbudgeted reserve that was not required last year.

Increasing demands for relief due to the unemployment and general economic situation caused an increase in the proposed tax rate for the welfare department from 8.3 cents last fiscal year, to 15 cents for this year. Budget requests from the department this year total $242,678 as against $160,545 for last year. The amount to be raised through taxation this year and for which the tentative rate of 15 cents has been set, is $206,450. Last year the amount raised through taxation was $129,545.

School Rates Up

Increases in the county school rate, Lambert said, were necessary because of the law that is now effective requiring the supervisors to deduct 10 per cent of the assessed valuation for delinquencies and to set up an additional five per cent reserve fund for emergencies.

This year the tentative rate for county schools is 41 cents. Last year it was 38 cents. Budget requests for the county's share for elementary schools this year total $558,211 as against $609,690 for last year with the entire amount to be raised through taxation as the fund had no unencumbered balance at the end of the fiscal year.

The county high school rate has been increased tentatively from 25 cents for last year to 29 cents for the present fiscal year. The budget for the next year are $392,764. Last year they were $395,190. The increase in the rate despite the reduced budget demands was brought about through the new fund to be set up and

A total of $240,268 is requested this year for the unbudgeted reserve as against $130,193 last year, necessitating a 15 cent rate to raise $225,000 of the required amount. Last year there was no rate set up for the unbudgeted reserve.

Budget requests this year as compared to those of last year are as follows: county general fund, requests $507,912 against $725,463 for last year. The tax rate for this item has tentatively been set at 24.5 cents. The salary fund has a rate of 18 cents for this year with budget requests totaling $355,590 as against $348,646 for last year. The last year rate for the same purpose was 18.1 cents.

Budget requests for the interest and sinking fund during the next fiscal year are $95,000, as against $112,000 for last year. The tax rate was cut from 7.2 cents in 1931-32 to a tentative rate of 7.1 cents for the new fiscal year.

material reduction was made in the advertising fund rate this year. Budget requests were $14,961 as against $41,554, last year and the rate tentatively was lowered from 14 cents to 3 cents.

The general reserve fund budget requests this year were dropped to $41,285 from $225,255 last year. No rate is fixed for raising this amount. The county park fund with budget requests lowered from $28,400 demanded for last year to tentative demands for $23,950 for this year will carry a 3 cent rate compared with 1.5 cents for last year. The bridge fund this year carries no rate as budget requests have dropped from the $126,163 asked for last year to this year's request for $13,400.

The total proposed rate is $1.63 inside cities and $1.55 in unincorporated areas. Last year the respective rates were $1.45 and $1.85.

BIND MEXICAN OVER ON BURGLARY COUNT

Armand Trujillo, Santa Ana Mexican, arrested several days ago on a burglary charge was held to answer to the superior court from Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today. His bail was fixed at $3000, which he did not make.

Trujillo was arrested after it had been reported to the police by the McGrath Second Hand Store that a number of articles had been sold there by the Mexican, which police recognized as having been reported stolen in a burglary here several weeks ago.

The "loot" consisted of Jack, block and tackle, and 20 feet of rope. It was the property of C. R. Ryan and was reported stolen from Ryan's storage building at Fourth street and the Santa Fe railroad tracks.

Church Group In Long Beach Trip

WINTERSEBURG, Aug. 11.—Senior Queen Esther girls of the Wintersburg Methodist church and their superintendent, Mrs. W. A. Matson, motored to Long Beach, Tuesday afternoon, as guests of one of the members, Miss Velma Wentzel.

The group held their regular business meeting and the program included a book review of the study book by Mrs. E. M. Fox and the subject of the discussion was "Immigration."

REASONS FOR LAX HANDLING OF LAW GIVEN

Pointing out the importance of voting intelligently in the coming elections and urging the necessity of electing dry candidates, J. F. Burke, Santa Ana publisher, addressed a large crowd last night at the Church of the Brethren at Ross and Camille streets.

Burke spoke on the topic, "Some Light on the Political Situation." In opening his remarks, he stressed the need of bringing politics into the church for discussion and how the fight for the passing and enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment has been the principal approach of the church into politics in recent times.

In Wrong Hands

"Church people and campaigners for prohibition worked for many years to abolish saloons and liquor, yet the results are far from satisfactory," said Burke. "The cause for this is not the law itself but the enforcement, which has been in the hands of the politicians and former leaders of the distilling business. It is futile to expect results under this system," he continued.

"The wets are flooding the country with false propaganda," the speaker declared. "The recent political conventions were packed with anti-prohibition forces and did not indicate the true sentiment of the states. As an example, Kansas delegates voted wet at both meetings, but in recent primaries, dry candidates were approved by the voters throughout the state."

Supports Strategy Board

Answering questions after his talk, Burke declared that economic questions were more important than prohibition. He reviewed the work and importance of the Board of Strategy and asked that selections of that body be considered as authentic guides to the drys.

Following a dinner in the church basement, a short musical program was presented. Ray Baker played two piano solos, the young men's quartet, composed of Odelle Jordan, Ray Baker, Ellsworth Teter, Paul Baker, and accompanied by Miss Vivienne Wyne, sang two numbers. The girls' quintet composed of Alberta Hoover, Eleanor Freeburg, Alta Mae Teter, Ruth Ellen Dunlap, and Velma Anderson, sang one number. Miss Alberta Hoover gave two readings and Miss Ada Teter and Mrs. Margaret Corbett sang a vocal duet, "Fifty Years From Now." The speaker of the evening was introduced by the Rev. Fred Flora, pastor.

MYSTERY DEATH BEING PROBED BY CORONER

An inquest was in progress this afternoon at Dixon's funeral parlor in Huntington Beach to determine the cause of the death of Charles G. Pratt, 62, San Bernardino general contractor who died at St. Joseph's hospital last night. Pratt was found on the floor of his rooms in Seabreeze Tavern in Huntington Beach shortly before 11 o'clock last night. He was unconscious and died at the hospital shortly after his arrival there.

Two bumps on his head have aroused the suspicions of authorities and the inquest was to be held to determine the cause of death, according to Earl Abbey, coroner.

The dead man had been in the habit of spending his summer vacations in Huntington Beach.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, laxatives and a mere movement of the bowels and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. If they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out four pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. One bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, flat taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts. You use them when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remotest a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

ANOTHER SUIT FILED IN FAIR DEBTS ACTION

Another name was added to the long list of Orange county residents being sued by Harry A. Labe, former president of the Orange County Fair association, to whom all claims of the defunct association were assigned.

The new defendant is F. C. Drumm, Santa Ana attorney, and judgment is asked of him for $25.82, the same amount as is against 150 other defendants who were named in a suit filed last June.

The total of more than $12,000 is asked in the suits against all of the alleged creditors of the association, who bought membership tickets thereby obligating themselves for the expense incurred by the association.

No time has been set for the hearing of the cases. Justice Morrison, in whose court the actions were filed, reporting that the defendants had not as yet been served in the case.

DRYS ARE NOMINATED

Kansans reiterated their dryness with ballots in the state's recent primary election when wet candidates trailed far behind victorious gubernatorial nominees. Landon, an independent oil operator of Independence, was given the Republican nomination for governor, and Governor Woodring again was the choice of Democrats. They'll battle it out in November with Dr. John R. Brinkley, of Milford, goat gland specialist, as the third contestant, on an independent ticket.

QUESTION OF APPRECIATION IS DISCUSSED

Raising the question of whether the people had lost confidence in the nation and if they stopped to realize the cost of creating and preserving the Union, H. E. Smith, chaplain of the Sedgwick post, G. A. R. spoke briefly at the regular meeting of the post yesterday after reading a poem entitled "Gettysburg 1863."

Chaplain Smith, who is now 87 years of age, is one of the oldest residents of the community and at one time served as a member of the county board of supervisors. During the Civil war he was a member of Company I, 18th Volunteer Infantry, enlisting from Kansas.

The poem follows:

GETTYSBURG 1863
"Meads had lost 23,000 men, but they had saved the Union."
I walked one Summer's day among the meadows.
Upon a quiet hill
Where stone and marble cast their lonely shadows
And mounted guns are still.

And, as I walked, my fancy drew the picture
Of days so long ago
When those fair fields rang with the noise of battle
And reeked with blood and woe.

In fancy then I saw the soldiers marching
Then saw them running swift
To meet the dreadful onslaught coming
Each life a patriot's gift.

I heard those weep who gave their best and bravest;
Their gift was not in vain;
Their cause was not for greed or pride
Nor for a monarch's gain.

Twenty-three thousands! But they saved the Union!
Meads' gallant men that day;
And, oh! the glory and the horror of it
Must never fade away.

Great men were there, whose names shall never perish
While loyal hearts endure;
Deep wounds were there, whose scars our land will cherish—
They wrought our Nation's cure.

They saved the Union—on each lowly headstone
And on each noble tomb
These words, unseen perhaps, no less are graven
And flowers shall ever bloom;

The flowers of freedom and of righteous courage,
Of faith and loyalty,
Of high ideals, held though life be forfeit—
These are our legacy.

Shall we forget? Oh! friends and comrades, never.
The tale grows dim with years,
But memory must keep her treasures ever
Bright with her heart-shed tears.

Then, as I mused, my dream of battle ended.
The tumult died away;
The smoke into the morning sunshine blended,
And on that Summer's day

I knew that, come what may, we are one people—
That Union will not cease;
And brother gives a friendly hand to brother
Across the hills of peace.

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE SOUGHT BY 7

Five wives and two husbands have taken their marital troubles into superior court during the past two days and are asking for relief through divorce.

Evelyn Waterman, clerk in the Oilfields National bank at Brea, is seeking a divorce from her husband B. E. Waterman, clerk in a Brea grocery, because she asserts in the complaint, he persisted in writing "No Fund" checks on the bank where she was employed. She also charged that he persisted in opening charge accounts and sending the bills to her at her office. Because of this several of his creditors wrote to the president of the bank and threatened to attach her wages.

William Z. Davis, a detective and owner of a ranch near Placentia is being sued for divorce by his wife Etta M. Davis who is asking custody of the minor child of the couple, $80 monthly alimony for herself and $20 monthly for the child's support. ## School Building In Fullerton Is Loaned Placentia

FULLERTON, Aug. 11. — The Americanization union high school district on Santa Fe avenue, Placentia, is to be loaned to the Placentia grammar school district board this year for use as an extra seventh and eighth grade room, according to action taken at the Fullerton high school board meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of the principal, Louis Plummer.

Action followed a request of LeRoy Lyon, president of the Placentia grammar school board, at the meeting. Mr. Plummer and Glenn Riddlebarger, principal of the Placentia schools, are to arrange a schedule by which the building can be used as a double purpose plant, accommodating the grammar school pupils in the day and the Americanization classes in the evenings.

Other business of the board was routine. Among the chief improvements on the high school campus is the erection of a store room, costing $4000, near the manual training building.

Next meeting of the board will be August 23 at the school.

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause.

Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the bowel walls weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonard, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Co. and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID tablets with guarantee of money refunded if they do not end your Pile misery.—Adv.

USES FIGURES SECURED IN SENATE INV. STIGATION TO UNDERMINE WETS' ARGUMENT

Blasting the foundation from under the statement that it is the laboring man who is demanding the return of liquor, the Rev. E. Dow Hoffman, pastor of the First Methodist church of Fullerton, was the speaker over radio KREG on the regular weekly program sponsored by the W. C. T. U.

The Rev. Mr. Hoffman used information obtained in the Senate investigation to prove that it is the wealthy men and women of the nation, and not the working man, who is seeking repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. He made a clear statement of the facts, and pointed out economic aspects of claims made by the wets.

"The report has been broadcast throughout the whole world that the laboring man of America is crying for the return of liquor," he said.

"A searching of the facts in the case brings out the old situation—a great deal of noise, and a vast amount of propaganda, but when we drag the waters we catch only a very few frogs croaking against prohibition. I wanted to say—we catch only a very few 'poor fish' crying for beer—but the fish that we do catch in this case are not poor—at least not in this world's goods.

"Who is it behind all this widespread noise purporting to have come from the laboring class? Who has spent millions of dollars to create wet sentiment throughout this country, and the world? Who has bought up the press of the land, to a large extent, and prostituted it to the wet cause? Certainly not the laboring man who, if we believe the reports broadcast daily, is having a hard time to find work whereby he can earn his daily bread.

Facts From Senate
"Who, indeed, is behind all this well-planned and amply financed program to discredit prohibition and the Eighteenth amendment. My old father used to say 'The pig caught in the fence always squeals the loudest'—and after some 14 years of loud squealing against the prohibition law, let's take a look at the pigs who are caught.

"Where shall we look for the facts in the case? Not the wet newspapers, certainly—they will tell you that Frances E. Willard and Carrie B. Nation were all wet—and that Al Smith is a radical temperance man.

"Hearsay will not carry much weight in court in any case so we will discard it here. But I will take you to the records of the hearings of the United States senate lobby investigation committee in 1930. These records are official and can be read by anyone who cares to take the trouble to see them. They stand as a permanent indictment against the pigs, who have been so persistently squealing against the prohibition law, and laying the blame for all the noise at the door of the laboring man.

"As a whole the laboring man of America is clean in his thinking, and wants the very best possible environment in which to rear his family. He has too much sense to bring back wholesale booze to fill the highways with drunken drivers, and the graveyards with broken bodies of men, women and children.

Backed By Millionaires

"This senate committee investigated the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment—The A. P. A. it is called. It is the outstanding wet group of today. It is the money power behind the movement against prohibition. For years it has claimed to represent the country at large, and the laboring man in particular. It has claimed that it has millions of names upon its membership roll, and that everybody is sick and tired of prohibition. But when the files and records of the A. P. A. were seized by the government for investigation by the senate committee it was discovered that the boasted millions of members had been a lie foisted upon the people falsely—for their paid membership was only about 10,000.

"Then out of the $425,000 received in dues and donations in one year, eight millionaires had given 47 per cent of the total, and 53 millionaires had given 75 per cent of the whole sum. In other words, this wet organization that has demoralized the thinking of the world relative to prohibition, is run, owned, controlled and financed by 53 wet millionaires, claiming to be the voice of labor, crying against prohibition.

"Laboring men of America—have you ever seen a millionaire, actively interested in the laboring man—except as a matter of profit to the millionaire? Now just why are these rich men so anxious to break down the Eighteenth amendment and bring back beer? You have heard the continued squealing of the pigs, and now let us see where the pinch comes to them.

"Here they are found working day and night for the return of booze, saying they are doing it for the benefit of the working man—when the files of their letters seized by the senate committee show that their sole object in breaking down the Eighteenth amendment is to relieve themselves of income and corporation taxes." The president of the A. P. A. freely admitted this before the senate committee as also did the secretary—Mr. Stayton.

"These wet millionaires figure that if beer is legalized and taxed three cents per glass, it would bring in enough revenue to balance the present income and corporation taxes, and these taxes would be done away with altogether. All this was admitted before the senate committee and yet these wet millionaires have the gall to come before the world and say they want beer as a blessing to the working man.

Rich Would Benefit
"Who would pay that tax? The wet millionaires who do not drink beer—he wants his brandy and champagne, he wants his rich and determined attack being made that it be repealed.

"Do you know what the Wright law is? It is simply a statement that so long as the amendment is a part of the Constitution that California will help to enforce it.

"If we repeal the Wright act we are proclaiming to the world that California is an outlaw state, that we are repudiating the Constitution, that we are expressing our contempt for the flag that waves over us.

"The Eighteenth amendment is a part of our Constitution, adopted by lawful means, ratified by 46 states of the Union, and California is one of those states, and will never allow her name to be blackened by repudiating that stand.

"Hold the Wright law—stand by the Eighteenth amendment, and the Constitution, and these United States of ours will come safely through the storms of the ages."

Fullerton Couple
Intend to Marry

FULLERTON, Aug. 11.—Marvin E. Yett, 21, and Frances E. Root, 18, both of Fullerton evidently preferred Riverside county to Orange county as a place to be married, for they have taken out an application for a marriage license in the city of Riverside.

The senate committee also found that the A. A. P. A. had a backing by wet millionaires representing corporations having a total worth of 40 billions of dollars—and still they claim to be representing the laboring man. This group of wet millionaires have poured out money all over the world to 'poison the wells of information' with the purpose of making America wet again. They have flooded the newspapers with wet propaganda and the magazines of the world as well. Their real purpose is to return the liquor traffic upon us, so that they can save millions for themselves, regardless of the sad degradation and poverty which would come upon the laboring people of America. This is a terrible indictment against any group of men—but it is by their own words that they are condemned.

"Yet thousands of people are being fooled by the insistent cry that the laboring man wants his beer returned to him. Let us awaken and see the danger before it is too late.

"One of the outcroppings of the A. A. P. A. is the so-called 'Crusader' movement, supposedly representing the youth of America crying for beer, and light wines.

Employment Question
"England and Germany, the great drinking nations of the world, are steadily reducing their number of licenses, and limiting the hours that liquor can be sold. They realize the alcoholic consumption is crippling industry, and demoralizing the working classes. Therefore they are attempting to curb the use of liquor.

"But it remains for the so-called Crusaders, an American organization, prostituting one of the holiest of names, to a devilish cause, to advance the argument that if we increase the drinking of liquor in America it will give employment to millions of men. In this, they are supported by the A. A. P. A. and the Woman's Organization against Prohibition—To the shame of the womanhood of America. There is an organization of women so lost to decency and common sense that they claim that they want the Eighteenth amendment done away with.

"Yes, they say that the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment will give employment to two million men in America.

"How will this be brought about? There is just one way, and that is that 'more liquor must be used than ever before'—somebody will have to loosen up the old belt, and pour gallons of beer down their throats. Yet in the same breath these so-called Crusaders tell us, that the United States is drinking more liquor than she ever did before the prohibition law went into effect.

"Also they have been telling us on every hand in every wet newspaper of the land that if we repeal the Eighteenth amendment there will be less drinking than at the present time under prohibition. Therefore friends, let me ask you, how in the world will repealing the Eighteenth amendment give employment to 2,000,000 more men? For to give employment to more men, we must drink more liquor—yet they say, 'repeal the Eighteenth amendment and we will drink less'—so there you have them hung high and dry on their own argument.

"Remember this, that every dollar spent for liquor, must come from the money that otherwise would go for food, clothing, and homes of our children. You working men, never forget it for a moment—No wet millionaire crying for the return of beer, will spend any of his time or money caring for your children, after beer is returned to curse the laboring people as of old.

"If the return of beer would relieve the unemployment situation, why is it that in Germany, France, and England, and other wet countries, they have far more unemployment than we have, and are so poor they cannot pay their war debts to the United States? Let the wet advocates answer that question for you, I cannot.

Keep Wright Act
"Now friends, in closing, let me say that I have discussed this question simply from an economic basis—for that is the basis of attack of the moneyed men—but there is another side, we must never forget, that God himself said 'Woe unto the man who putteth the bottle to his neighbors' lips and maketh him drunken' and America never again should come under that condemnation—hold fast to that which we have—stand firm.

"And then here in California, our own, beautiful state, there is a

VALUATION OF SEAL BEACH IN GAIN FOR YEAR

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 11. — The total assessed valuation for this city, as announced by Assessor W. R. Shaw, amounts to $2,704,595, an increase of several thousand dollars over that of last year. Of this amount, the land valuations are placed at $2,409,260, improvements, $311,430 and personal property at $52,140. The sum of $68,235 is exempt from taxation.

The city council is meeting as a board of equalization this week and will officially set the city tax rate at the next council meeting.

With a total of 694 names on the great register for the August primary election, this city shows an increase of over 100 from any previous registration. Of this number, 398 registered as Republicans and 276 as Democrats and 20 declined to state their party affiliation.

Los Angeles, in its dairies and farms, contains 50,000 cows within its metropolitan confines.

NOTED LEADER ASSERTS DRYS WILL FIGHT CONVENTION PLAN OF REFERENDUM ON LIQUOR

In an effort to remove the prohibition question from under control of politicians and secure an honest expression of the people, the drys of America will demand a direct vote and not the voice of a politically bossed state convention in case a referendum on the Eighteenth Amendment is taken, it was declared at a recent meeting in Los Angeles by Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, chairman of the national prohibition board of strategy.

Dr. Cherrington who is one of the most widely known prohibitionists in the world is leading a fight to see that before a state takes itself out of the jurisdiction of the prohibitory amendment that each elector will have had his say.

Make Strenuous Fight
"We will fight to see that any amendment proposed shall also be phrased that the Eighteenth amendment will remain operative in every state unless a popular vote in such a state shall make the amendment inoperative so far as that state is concerned," Dr. Cherrington told his audience.

Make Strenuous Fight
"Of course, we will fight to the last ditch to defeat the whole program of the liquor interests for any modification or repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. That includes every proposal that may be presented that will tend to weaken or repeal the prohibition law. That fight will be waged in Congress against submission of any such proposal and in every legislature and in every convention that may be called. If any proposed amendment weakening prohibition should be submitted by congress, the dry forces will put on simultaneously over the entire country, the greatest campaign that America has ever seen.

"Of course, the liquor interests and their friends in congress know perfectly well that no amendment such as any of them propose can be ratified by the necessary three-fourths of the states of the Union.

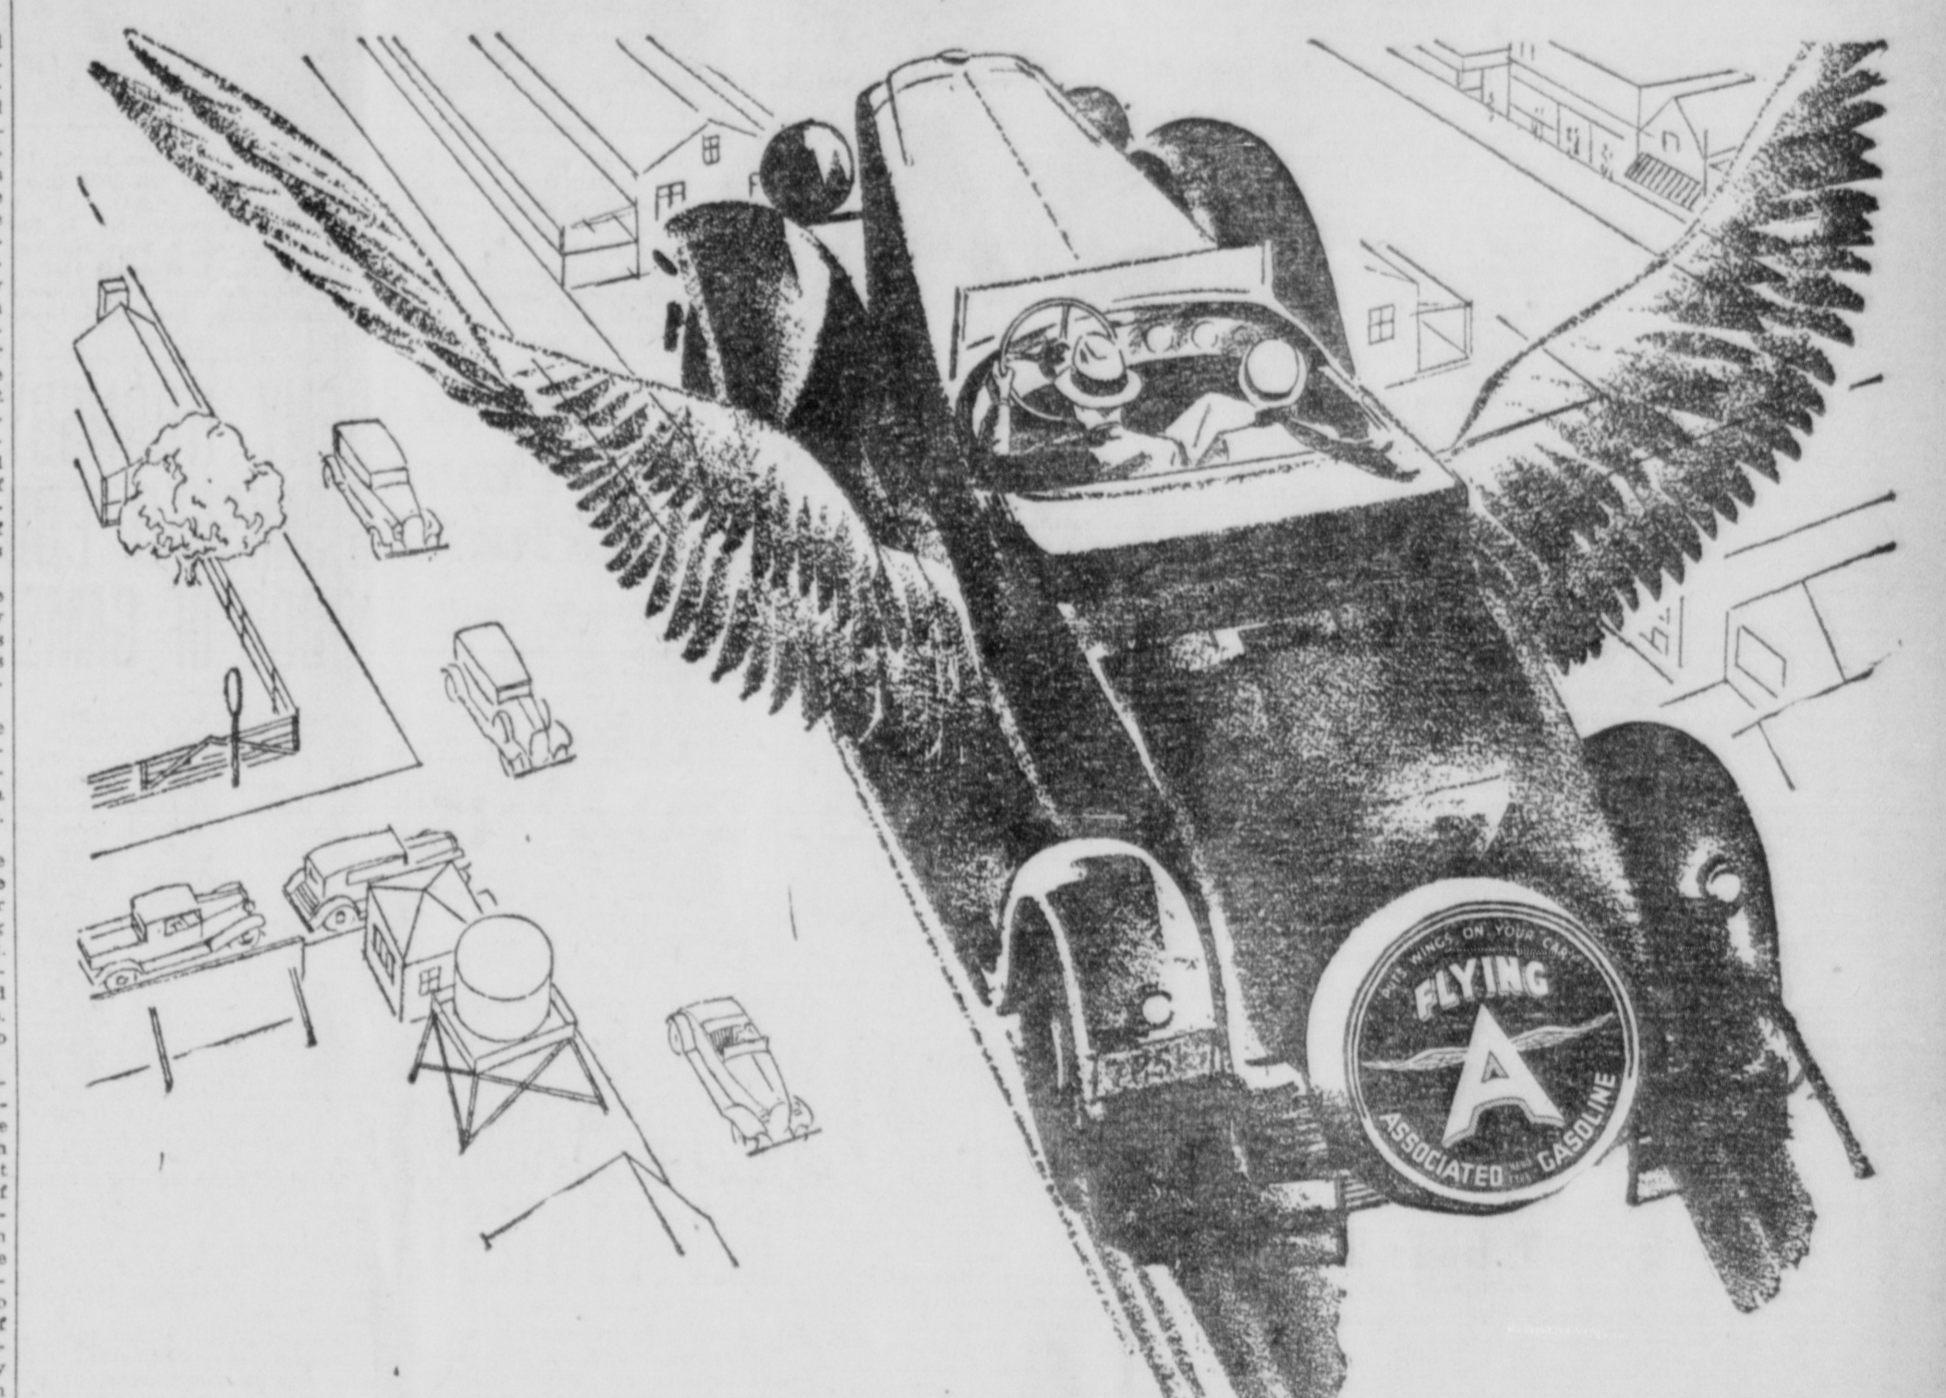

No repealing or modifying amendment that meets the wishes of the liquor group can pass this test of three-fourths of the states.

Against Modification
Dr. Cherrington charged that the liquor element intended to make a political football of the prohibition issue with recurring conventions and submission proposals using that method to obtain nullification of prohibition in as many states as possible.

"In spite of the organization of the wet groups and in spite of the large sums of money by which they are backed, it is well known that there are at least 20 states where the sentiment throughout the state as a whole would be against the ratification of any repeal or modification proposal," the speaker continued. "The refusal of one branch of the legislature in each of 13 states would be sufficient to defeat the program of the liquor element. Thirty states, however, instead of 13, stand in the pathway of the brewers and distillers winning their fight."

BIG FLOWER
NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 11.—A sunflower more than 10 feet in height and with a head 15 inches in diameter is on exhibition at the office of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce here.

The sunflower was grown on sandy soil at the home of Frank Claudina, Twentieth street, Newport Beach, and is said to be the largest ever recorded here.

BOOKS and SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Baseball seems to be in the throes of depression, with one after another of the minor leagues blowing up. Against this, however, some remarkable crowds in the majors have gone on record recently.

Cleveland opened its new lake-front stadium with a record-breaking crowd for all time, 80,284. The crowd paid approximately $80,000 to watch the Athletics and Indians do battle, end of this $47,500 went to the home team, $22,500 to the A's, $80,000 to the United States treasury and $2250 to the American League.

CUBS' FINE CROWDS

The Cubs played before 46,200 on a recent Sunday at home, and on the following Sunday 35,000 paid to see the Cubs play in Brooklyn. That totals up to $1,200. These three crowds, of course are unusual, and week-day attendance has fallen off in most major league parks. The Sports News, recognized as official organ of baseball, says:

"The time has arrived when organized baseball must pool its resources, money, brains and courage to ride out the storm that is sweeping over the minor leagues, three of which were wrecked within the last two weeks."

TOO COMMERCIAL?

Such pooling of resources would seem to many commentators to put the game entirely on a commercial basis. When business picks up, surely the minors will come back.

Extraordinary major league crowds seem to prove that the game still is pretty well thought of by dear old John Public. It appears to be up to those who are making money to help those who are not, but a combination of resources wouldn't sound good to the fans and would not improve attendance in cities where people are not interested in the game to the extent of supporting it.

EFFECT OF FARMS

It is not hard to find folks who blame the farm system for many of the financial ills baseball suffers. The big league farm team is regarded by the home-town as a club from the outside which they feel no prideful obligation to support. And, if a big league farm team from some other city wins a minor league flag, the fans backing locally-owned clubs feel that they are competing with major league talent.

There is another side to that argument, too. If local enterprise is not sufficiently interested in baseball projects to own the home town team, should it not be taken for granted that the city is without baseball pride when it affects the pocketbook?

ANGEL TEES UP

The great growth of golf undoubtedly has worked enervating effects on baseball in smaller cities. The town angel, who used to shell out for the baseball deficit, is now a big shot at the golf clubs, and he probably finds plenty of opportunity to spend his money for golf. When he wants to see a ball game, perhaps he can jump into his car and drive to the nearest major league city and see a better brand of ball than he could at home.

St. Louis is the southern outpost of the majors, but throughout the south, there are many high class league teams. The soft draw of scores of major league players is pretty convincing evidence.

NIGHT GAME FAILS

For a time night baseball drew unprecedented crowds in the minor league cities, but the novelty of the attraction soon wore off, and very few teams are playing under the floodlights this year. Baseball is a game to be played by day.

Minor leagues hitherto regarded as financially strong have folded this year. But, in the last couple of years, so have a few banks. Maybe both the leagues and the banks will come back some happier day.

ITALY SURPRISE 'MENACE' IN ROWING

Colima To Turn Wrestler, Make Debut Here

FORMER GREAT FIGHTER ADDED TO DELHI CARD

Bert Colima, once great Mexican middleweight fighter, returns to the horizon square Thursday night, August 18, at the Orange County Athletic club—but not as a fighter. Colima returns to the ring as a light-weight wrestler and they say that he is a fair country bone-twister, at that.

Bert has been added to Promoter Elmer Wilson's second "independent" wrestling program. He meets the Filipino light-heavy, Marshall Aguirre in the one-fall, 30-minute opening bout of the evening.

Whether Colima's huge following will turn out to see him conduct a comeback as a grappler remains to be seen, but there is every reason to believe that the Whittier flash still commands a deal of respect among his Mexican countrymen and should he make the grade in his new profession it won't be long before "viva la Colima" will again be ringing in the ol' gladiator's ears.

With the adding of the Colima-Aguirre match, Wilson has four all-star, light-heavyweight bouts carded. Steve Strillich meets "Smilin' George" Maloney in the three-fall feature; Mustapha Pasha faces Brick Mayne and Dr. P. A. Mulliken, world's light-heavyweight title claimant draws Johnny Clancy in three-fall, one hour bouts.

Olive Club Wins Game by Forfeit From Long Beach

A game between Santa Ana and Olive at Santa Ana Saturday night will conclude the 1932 conference season.

BROOKLYN PENNANT VICTORY VISIONED

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Max Carey, lean manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers who has been booting his outfit along the National league pennant path at an amazing clip recently, will have another fling at the flag next year. Directors of the Brooklyn club are slated to meet tomorrow and announce formally that Carey has been signed.

PAULIE WALKER IS LEONARD'S FOE

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(INS)—Benny Leonard, former world's lightweight champion, will continue on his comeback path tonight at Ebbets field, weather permitting, against Paulie Walker. The show scheduled to be held last night was put over until this evening because of rain.

Leonard will have two pounds in the weights. Walker is quoted as a 2 to 1 favorite.

Bat Battalino will meet in a semi-final engagement Billy Townsend, Vancouver.

ROAMING CAMERAMAN CATCHES SPORT PICTURES HERE, THERE, EVERYWHERE

"We may get together soon—you can't tell a thing about it," declared Harper, while Ingram said that "we'd like to play Notre Dame and perhaps it can be arranged."

DENY HORNSBY DISMISSED FOR 'GOOD OF GAME'

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(INS)—Acutely conscious of intentions that Rogers Hornsby, dismissed manager of the Chicago Cubs, had been eased out of baseball "for the good of the game," John A. Heydler, president of the National league, issued a flat and unqualified denial of these stories today in an exclusive statement to the writer.

This, however, was only one feature of his remarks. In another, he paid a glowing tribute to owners of the Chicago club whom he characterized as the finest sportsmen in baseball. In a third, he confined himself to Mr. Hornsby whom he characterized as a young man who might have minded his own business but didn't.

He laughed at the idea that there was "mystery" in connection with Hornsby's departure from Chicago.

He scorned the notion that the announced reappointments, right under the Hornsby break, of Kilfefer, Fonseca and Shotton in St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia, respectively, had the slightest significance.

"There is nothing mysterious about the Hornsby matter," said he. "Why should there be? He simply did not fit into the picture. He wanted to run every ball club from the groundkeeper to the front office. He was not an ideal employee."

On the subject of the Chicago club he was moved almost to lyric incoherence.

"The Chicago club has been in business for 57 years and, for 50 of these, it has been in the hands of sterling, high grade characters."

PARIS, Aug. 11.—(INS)—Despite the fact she has abandoned tournament tennis for the remainder of this year to devote herself to art studies, America need have no fear of losing its pride and joy of the tennis courts.

Helen Willis Moody made this clear today in an interview in which she asserted emphatically that she has not the slightest intention of giving up tennis.

"I never will abandon tennis," she said. "I like it too much. I shall play all the time I am in Europe to keep in practice."

Mrs. Moody has definitely decided to give over this summer to the study of art, although it means she will be unable to defend her title in the American championships.

"I plan to remain in Europe for five months more," she said. "I will paint and study painting, although I have not yet selected the schools where I will study."

Dempsey On Ring Riches Trail Again

SEATTLE, Aug. 11.—(UP)—Picking up the come-back trail he started last spring, Jack Dempsey scored an easy victory over Chet Shandel, 212, San Francisco, in a four-round exhibition bout last night.

Dempsey carried his opponent through the closing minutes of the contest. Shandel went down for long counts in the second round three times, and took two more "rest" periods in the fourth.

The former champion's condition remained uncertain, due to the ease of his victory.

Dempsey fights Frank Sawyer, Vancouver, B. C., in another four-round exhibition Friday night in Portland.

MRS. MOODY DENIES RETIREMENT STORY

PARIS, Aug. 11.—(INS)—Despite the fact she has abandoned tournament tennis for the remainder of this year to devote herself to art studies, America need have no fear of losing its pride and joy of the tennis courts.

CALIFORNIA IN FINALS: SPURT BEATS CANADA

BY TED SMITS
(I. N. S. Sports Correspondent)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 11.—(INS)—An unheralded, swarthy, black-haired Italian crew today had served notice on the Olympic Games that the sturdy sons of Mussolini must be reckoned with Saturday when the mightiest eight-oared combinations of the world go to their marks at Long Beach stadium with the championship at stake.

The Italian combination stole the show from the University of California eight that represents the United States. The Italians, sweeping past the favored eight of England, turned in the fastest time of the regatta for the 1000-meter course. Let loose a Fascist cheer, raised their hands in salute, and they rowed gaily around fresh as the proverbial daisies.

The United States, pressed to the limit to win from Canada in the second heat, was timed in 6:29 against 6:28.2 for the tireless Italians.

Three water sports—swimming, rowing, and yachting—dominated the closing days of the Games with boxing and the equestrian events close behind in popular interest.

The United States continued to add to its amazing unofficial total with 540 against 1881-2 for Italy in second place. Other leaders were: Finland 133 1-2; France 124 1-2; Sweden 120; Germany 110.

New crowned Olympic champions in swimming were:

Women's diving—Miss Georgia Coleman, U. S. A.—87.52 points. 400-meter free style, men—"Buster" Crabbe, U. S. A.—4:48.4 (New Olympic record).

As one of the final ceremonies of the games, the largest massing of athletic power since the opening ceremony was held in the stadium last night when 5000 men and women representing five nations gave a demonstration of sports new to the American public.

The Japanese captivated the crowd with native fencing the object of which was to break balloons fixed to the heads of the contestants. The Czechoslovak and Yugoslav sokols gave rhythmic dancing and calisthenics, while the Mexicans presented an ancient Aztec Indian dance.

In yachting Wednesday, Gilbert Gray, New Orleans star, assured another title for the United States by bringing his sloop home third in another star class heat, giving him enough points to clinch victory.

The rowing program today consisted in repurchase races. In these the losers in the first trials will be given another chance to reach the finals by scoring victories.

Wednesday's rowing program drew 40,000 to the artificial lagoon at Long Beach.

In the four-oared shells without coxswain, Great Britain and Italy were returned winners, with the Italians turning in the best time of 7:06.8 against 7:13.2 for the British.

The United States scored in the double sculls by defeating Germany in 7:14.6 after Canada had taken the first from Italy and Brazil in 7:25.

The eight-oared shells presented and both heats were in doubt until the final drive. Italy looked the freshest of all as it moved down England, Japan, and Brazil in the home stretch.

The final heat found the United States pitted against Canada, New Zealand and Germany. The four teams finished in that order, with not much more than one full boat length separating first and last place.

The American team impressed with its power, but the untiring fast stroke of the Italians boded no good for the hope of Coach Ky Ebright to repeat his triumph at Amsterdam and bring a second successive Olympic championship back to the University of California campus.

COMMITTEES OF PLACENTIA CHAMBER HEAD

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 11.—Announcement of standing committee was made by Charles Lake, newly elected president of the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce, at the regular meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce hall this week.

Those appointed were membership committee, L. A. Frink, W. A. Wheeler, J. G. Allen; finance, E. M. Dozier, F. A. Monroe, J. C. Mitchell; public improvements, Ray Johnson, L. W. Schauer, J. C. Mitchell; park, W. V. Brady, S. W. Holt, I. F. German; publicity, H. D. Yockey, W. V. Brady, Vernon King; auditing, F. A. Monroe, I. F. German.

W. V. Brady, member of the park committee, reported and exhibited a map outlining suggested schemes as to improvements.

H. E. Yockey requested more time for the merchants' sign committee.

The reading of the expense of the lighting district was suggested by R. E. Johnson, secretary. Dr. C. V. Violet asked that a committee be appointed to investigate the proposition and that the committee have authority to act for the number of commerce in working out a scheme whereby expenses of lighting the town be reduced. This matter was referred to the improvement committee consisting of Ray Johnson, J. C. Mitchell and L. W. Schauer.

W. O. Broadly spoke of power rates in reference to the Southern California Edison company stating that through a disagreement with the company and the high cost of electricity for power, he had installed a gasoline engine to pump water. This pump was proving satisfactory and a lot cheaper, he said.

A report was given of the last Associated Chamber of Commerce meeting by H. E. Yockey. The water question was the most important matter discussed he stated.

PLACENTIA, Aug. 11.—Thomas E. Pickering, secretary of Placentia Chamber of Commerce the past seven years, severed his connection yesterday when his resignation was accepted by the board of directors at the regular meeting. Pickering's resignation came as a surprise to most of those present. He gave as reason for his leaving his anticipation of entering the legal profession in Santa Ana soon.

A typical storm session greeted the members and visitors yesterday where three candidates for supervisor in district three were asked to give their views on two important issues in Orange county welfare.

The three candidates, Herbert Oelke, Anaheim, W. J. Carmichael, Fullerton, and Le Roy Lyon, Anaheim and Placentia, were questioned concerning their stand on water conservation in the upper reaches of the Santa Ana river and on the conservation by individuals in the county who do not release to lower regions of the valley.

John Tuffree, after correcting statements published in certain papers last week and attributed to him, discussed the water situation, and asked the candidates and R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Farm bureau, to answer the following two questions:

First, "What do you think of conserving water by spreading in the upper basins?" and

Second, "Do you think the owners and constructors of Santiago dam should be allowed to retain the water without releasing part of it to the Garden Grove regions, to which a portion of it belongs?"

Carmichael paid high tribute to the large water companies of the county, and to their efforts in keeping water for Orange county, and declared for water conservation, especially in plantings of trees for conservation, and declared against the builders of the Santiago dam holding all the water from the valley below. He said the water should be prorated.

Lyon did not declare himself on those two issues in detail, but said he felt the tax situation of most vital importance in the coming campaign, and that a harmonious water plan should be worked out.

Oelke said he thought the county should have control of the water.

Flaherty said the policy of the Farm bureau regarding water distribution has been that none should be taken from developed into undeveloped districts.

Flaherty and Albert Launer, the former representing the Farm bureau and rural interests, and the latter the organized cities, explained the proposed reduction of the 40-cent road tax to a 10-cent tax. After considerable discussion, directors voted to endorse the change. Louis Jacobsen registered the only negative vote on roll call. Jacobsen said he thought the subject deserved more study and felt those acting should make certain the 10-cent rate will be adequate for maintenance. The motion was made by E. J. Menard and seconded by Harry Faston.

James and John Tuffree and H. H. Hale discussed the water situation. Hale said "the county is suffering with committee-itis. He declared that the water situation between San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties can be settled on an equitable basis through following the plans of the water conservation committee.

As a final report on the water question, A. S. Bradford, president of the chamber, an old pioneer, described the difference in irrigating "then and now."

UNEMPLOYED GROUP OF OCEANVIEW APPEAL FOR FOOD AND FRUIT JARS

OCEANVIEW, Aug. 11.—New officers of the Oceanview Unemployed association served for the first time at Monday evening's open meeting which was attended by 65 persons, representing the 56 families who are now working with the organization and approximately 25 others who are possibly eligible for membership.

A. K. Lawton, newly elected chairman of the association, occupied the chair, hearing reports of various committees on their work. The Rev. W. A. Matson, member of the local Welfare committee, and James Daley, of the County Unemployed association, spoke.

A formal protest against the change in county allotments to unemployment organizations went on record.

Jack Rogers of the local group told of the county meeting Monday, and of the appeal he is making to the public through the press for aid along lines which the county does not now give. Sugar, fresh meats, fresh milk and also articles which are not now included in this ration. Twelve articles of food and household necessities are being received in the new list: Compound, baking powder, beans, canned milk, coffee, matches, potatoes, rice, salt, soap, and yeast.

The lack of sugar is almost a tragedy at this time, as arrangements for fruit for canning have been made and Tuesday forty lugs of peaches were in without sugar to put them up with.

An appeal for fruit jars, which are also needed, was made over the Santa Ana radio station this week, bringing in four dozen mayonnaise jars. The committee is now trying to find lids to fit the quart size.

The committees are working hard to equalize work and compensation for all connected with the local organization and slackers will not be tolerated, according to the new rulings. The committee is working hard to create the necessary surplus of commodities for care of the helpless.

Mrs. Lillian Mooney was appointed at Monday evening's meeting to see about the cloth which is to be distributed soon to the various associations and she will check on needs of local people and all orders will come through her hands.

Mrs. L. Ray was voted in as head of the kitchen committee which has a member from each of the separate tracts in the community who are to keep in touch with the families in her section. Mrs. Gilliam for the Moore tract; Mrs. William Haman, Liberty tract; Mrs. Marshall, Blaylock tract; and Mrs. Hill for Boulevard Gardens tract.

The new committee heads in divisions of the organization include Ed Young, chairman of finance; Fred Hill, welfare committee; Ward Mooley, solicitation; William Womelsdorf and O. Jensen, grievance committee; O. Jensen and H. R. Haman, fishermen for the organization, and John Kelley, entertainment.

OPPOSITION TO CHAMBER PLANS MIGHT RESULT IN LIGHTS TO BE AWARDED

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 11.—That some proposals being made by the Southern Council of the State Chamber of Commerce in regard to taxation may be opposed by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce was indicated at a meeting of the chamber last night at the city hall.

Some of the proposals deal with changes in school districts, one being that all elementary school districts in the state be merged in larger districts coterminous with the present high school districts.

This and other proposals are being made by the southern council of the state chamber, which is to come before all the councils of the state body, were referred to the local chamber's legislative committee, headed by Lew Wallace.

Kenneth Baker of Santa Ana appeared on behalf of the money-raising campaign being conducted throughout Orange county on behalf of the Orange county children's health camp. He had already appeared in this behalf at a meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club.

After discussing this matter, it was decided to appoint a committee, with power to act with other organizations and persons. The committee consists of Irvin G. Gordon, E. L. Moore and President W. S. Smith Jr.

A radio advertising proposal made by Station KREG, Santa Ana, was referred to the advertising committee, the chairman of which is Harry H. Williamson.

Secretary G. C. Macleod reported on a meeting of the state chamber at Los Angeles last week when a state-wide drive was launched to find available jobs so as to employ as many people as possible, even if wages and hours are both cut down.

AVOCADO GROUP ADDRESSES BY IN LA HABRA 17 CANDIDATES HOLD CONTEST HEARD AT MEET

LA HABRA, Aug. 11.—Although already assured of the marketing, cooperatively, next season, the highest percentage of an avocado crop on record, the Calavo Growers of La Habra-Whittier district, at their meeting held in La Habra this week, selected two teams in a big sign-up campaign of non-cooperative growers.

Albert H. Wright and Cecil Knowlton were selected as captains of the two teams. A spirited contest is expected during this week and will start at once, according to the announcement of Ray F. Frantz, president of the organization.

This district already has contributed about 100 acres of new groves to the cooperative program this summer. It was further brought out at this meeting that the record crop participation this season is hailed as the means of bringing even better comparative returns to the cooperative growers.

Avocado growers on Cecil Knowlton's team are A. W. Christie, F. D. Halm, Tom Ingersoll, Ray Marsh, Louis Muchow, Joy Richert, Homer Randall, Herman C. Smith, P. J. Weiss, Col. J. S. Young; Albert Wright's team is composed of George Armstrong, William Espelt, F. E. Halm, D. Howard Jackson, Alex Morrison, M. J. Pickering, M. R. Reynolds, Q. W. Reed, George A. Soule and Harold Peabody.

Following their talks Waltonians discussed adding a large roomy kitchen to their cabin. The kitchen will be on the northeast of the main building, and will be large enough to be used in preparing food for large crowds.

Proceeding the candidatorial talks, a two-reel picture of the work of the patrol boat, "Cobra," in protecting game fish off Los Angeles county was shown.

President John Gregory introduced the speakers, and called on Dan O'Hanlon to read letters from three candidates who answered the request for their presence by letter.

Appearing were Chester Kline, candidate for congress from the 19th district; Clyde Downing, candidate for state senate from the 35th district; Nelson T. Edwards, state senator from the 39th district, and candidate for senate from 35th district; L. M. COUNTY TO COOPERATE IN
COLLECTION, DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS FOODSTUFFS

Orange county is ready to cooperate and do its share in the state program of using the unemployed in harvesting and preserving surplus food commodities and the issuing of labor cards or credits, according to Welfare Director B. V. Curry.

Curry has made several trips to San Francisco for conferences with Food Administrator Dudley Moulton relative to the program. According to Curry the present plan for relief of the unemployed calls for an advisory council in each county. This council includes one member of the board of supervisors, the agricultural commissioner and others especially interested in welfare work. It is planned that these units will locate sources of supply and determine availability and volume.

This information, it is planned, will be given to the state welfare commission and the various welfare agencies throughout the state, and thereafter a direct contact will be made between the source of supply and the need.

Considerable quantities of excess California foodstuffs available for distribution to the distressed residents of the state have been reported to the officers of the state food administration in San Francisco, and a transportation group, appointed by Moulton, is attempting to determine how these stores may be moved into the hands of the relief agencies.

Among the items offered the state are five carloads of oranges in Southern California and stores of potatoes, onions, carrots and canned goods in other parts of the state. These stores are being reported by county committees set up by the food administration.

The state food administration has constituted itself as a clearing house to provide for the bringing in of relief foodstuffs not readily available locally and the transportation of local surplus stocks that might be used to better advantage elsewhere. In this manner it is hoped to strengthen local relief agencies through an even and equitable distribution of the surplus, no matter where the source of such surplus may lie, and at the same time permit such local agencies to carry on their work with the least possible interference.

Each offer of foodstuffs when received by this central clearing house is checked and reported to the statewide relief committee, which is headed by Milton Esberg of San Francisco. In addition the State Bureau of Commerce, headed by Simon J. Lubin, is notified, to determine if any of the foodstuffs may be available for distribution at any point outside the state.

YOUNGER BOYS
GROUP LEAVES FOR MOUNTAINS

Younger boys of the Y. M. C. A. will start tomorrow morning for their week at Camp Osceola. The "Friendly Indian" period at camp, including boys from all over Orange county, will provide a wonderful outing for boys under 12 years of age, and the advance registration indicates that there will be a large number of the lads present.

Directed by J. B. Wilbur, Y secretary of Orange, the boys will spend a week in play, study, work, and general recreation in the beautiful surroundings of Osceola. Their daily schedule provides for nature study, Bible study, campfire talks and entertainments, games, hikes, swimming and the other elements of a good camp for boys.

The entire number is divided into small groups, seven boys in each group, with an adult leader to conduct their activities.

The boys from Santa Ana who are registered for the camp are: Bruce Ragan, Arthur Beard, Richard H. Hain, John Henderson, Howard Rapp, Jr., Keith O'Connor, David MacMullan, Harry Thompson, Billy Detrishe, Douglas May, James Yamada, Horace Munger and Raymond Ross.

Darrell Gaebbe, and George Munro will act as leaders for the Santa Ana boys, while R. H. McArthur will interest the boys nightly around the camp fire with his Indian stories. He will take his tepee and Indian costumes with him for camp display and study.

BARBER FILES
SLANDER SUIT;
ASKS $10,000

Charging that he had been maliciously slandered to the extent that his business and personal affairs had suffered, John G. Gibson, Oceanview barber has filed suit in superior court, demanding $10,000 in damages from John A. Murdy Jr., also of Oceanview.

According to Gibson he was falsely accused, by Murdy, of bootlegging. On July 14, last, he alleges that Murdy said in front of other people: "What would you do if you had a friend who is a barber with a fine young wife and baby, who is a bootlegger?"

Gibson alleges that he asked Murdy what he meant and was told: "You know I mean you. I have the goods on you. I was never more serious in my life. You were slick enough not to have it (meaning intoxicating liquor) around your place of business, but you used your car to sell it. I have seen a half-pint of liquor and the man who showed it to me said he purchased it from you."

This alleged malicious and false accusation, according to Gibson, was made before and after July 14 and was responsible for the insurer cancelling the public liability on Gibson's automobile. He also declares that Murdy's statements have been responsible for many of his regular customers taking their patronage elsewhere.

Gibson is demanding $5000 general damages; $2500 for damages to his business and $2500 exemplary damage.

CONFERENCE ON RIVER PLANS IS HELD HERE

Another conference of engineers relative to plans for construction work on the upper Santa Ana river is looming following a dinner conference held here Tuesday night between members of the Orange county board of supervisors and leaders in water development from Redlands. The meeting was in Ketter's cafe.

Those attending the conference were Francis Cutler of Redlands, chairman of the Tri-county Water Conservation association; George Hinckley, city engineer of Redlands; Walter Hartzell, city attorney of Redlands; J. J. Pendergast, president of the Bear Valley Mutual Water company; and A. E. Brook, state assemblyman from Redlands. Orange county supervisors were represented by Willard Smith, chairman of the board's water committee and supervisor from the second district; William Schumacher, third district; C. H. Chapman, first district, and George Jeffrey, fifth district.

Members of the Redlands delegation, announced after the meeting that there is still hope that some program may be worked out whereby the three counties will be able to match $400,000 state funds with local money for the work. The program, as outlined in a recent report by A. C. Sonderregger, engineer employed by the tri-county water committee and supervisor from the second district; William Schumacher, third district; C. H. Chapman, first district, and George Jeffrey, fifth district.

This program was turned down by Orange county supervisors after G. A. Elliott, consulting engineer of San Francisco, engaged to check the data had reported that such a plan would be inimical to this county's water rights and best interests.

While the board of supervisors agreed to have their engineers confer with those of the Tri-county Water Conservation association relative to the plan Supervisor Smith said that any agreement would be a matter of engineering and that at present an agreement is no nearer than it was before the parley other than the understanding which always follows a conference between both sides of a question.

The camp is to be under the direction of Miss E. Lucille Robinson, local Girl Reserve secretary. She will be assisted by Miss Edna Munford, secretary from Fullerton and Miss Lavinia Compton, secretary from Orange.

In addition to the secretaries there will be a corps of nine adult counselors who are specialists in various lines of out-of-door camping. The counselors secured for the second week of Girl Reserve camp are as follows:

Miss Grace Pritchard and Mrs. Floma Sloop, handicraft; Miss Clara Spelman, music; Inez Morris, camp newspaper; Lavinia Compton, campfire and nature study; Winifred Beebe, recreation; Dorcas Turner, dramatics; Mergie Glenn, and Miss Newcomb, swimming.

In addition to these special activities the camp is to have the expert instruction of Wilbert Bonney in photography. Chapel services, campfire programs and informal discussions all will have part in the camp program. Hiking also will be a special feature.

There are still a few additional places left for this last week of camp and any one wishing to register may see Miss Robinson at the Y. W. C. A. on the corner of Fifth and Main streets. All registrations and final camp fees must be in the office by Saturday, August 13, it was announced.

NEW EFFORT BEING MADE TO REVIVE CONTROL PLAN OF CITRUS SHIPMENTS

Following a recent meeting in Redlands at which Orange County Farm Bureau officials and citrus growers conferred with growers of the Redlands district, a new organization that may have the proration plan for handling orange shipments is looming, it was announced today.

INJURED YOUTH IS RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Leonard Earl Smith, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Smith of Cypress who was found unconscious at the side of the road near his cypress home Monday night, was reported today to be well on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Vernon Snell found the prostrated form of the youth at the side of the road. The child was taken to his home and remained unconscious for an hour.

The accident happened when the front wheel of his bicycle crumpled and threw him to the ground, his head striking the handlebar as he struck. The injuries are not believed to be serious but included a scalp wound and bruises.

Increase Noted In Book Readers

SEAL BEACH, Aug. 11.—Residents of this city are becoming more bibliophilic, is the contention of Mrs. Mary Spinner, librarian, who states that during the month of July, 1648 books, and 170 magazines were loaned by the library. This is the highest amount since the starting of the branch library here.

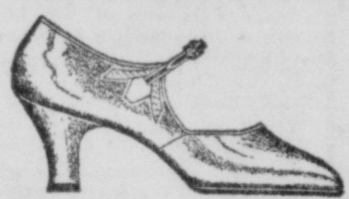

Orange county was represented at the meeting by John Crill, president of the Farm Bureau; R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the organization; Holmes Bishop, chairman of the bureau's citrus department; and Leroy Lyon, Farm Bureau director. They spoke and expressed regret that the proration agreement had fallen through and said that while it was in operation the agreement resulted in better prices for the grower and that the grower must forget animosities and form a new organization if improved conditions are to maintain.

As a result of the parley a Redlands district organization was formed to study the problem of disposal of surplus citrus fruits and Donald S. C. Anderson, Tillman Dexter, and M. W. H. Williams were named as the committee to have charge of nominating a chairman for that group.

Packing-houses of the Redlands district were all represented at the meeting and leading growers were present. As a result of the meeting it was decided that an organization shall be effected in each of the citrus districts and that from these a Southern California organization to control the movement of fruit will be formed.

NOTED ARTISTS ON CLASSICAL HOUR TONIGHT

John McCormack, Harold Bauer, pianist, and Vessella's Italian band will be featured tonight on the Musical Masterpieces program over radio KREG. This 30-minute program is proving to be one of the most popular features of the daily broadcast because of the high type music and artists being presented through electrical recordings.

McCormack will sing two of his favorite numbers "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Kathleen Ma-vourneen." Selections from "La Boheme" and "Faust" will be featured by Vessella's Italian band and Bauer will play "Sonata Appassionata" by Beethoven.

Later in the evening Jerry Hall and Aaron Gonzalez will entertain with another 15-minute program featuring two of Hall's own compositions. In addition to his own numbers Hall will respond to requests he has received recently.

At 8 o'clock the Jacques Jourdville String orchestra will offer a program featuring "Only One Vienna," by Schrammel; selections from "The Firefly," by Friml; Manon's "The Dream," and selections from "The Red Mill" by Victor Herbert.

Another discussion of candidates, their qualifications and the requirements of the offices they are seeking will be broadcast at 8:30 during the time devoted to "Our Government and Who's Who in Local Politics."

DOUBLE BILL WILL END SHOWING TODAY

Final showing of the double feature bill which has been such a distinct hit at the Fox West Coast theater for the past two days will be seen today.

The two features are "Love Affair" and "Night World." The former stars Dorothy Mackail and the latter Lew Ayres.

This is the first time in the past year or more that two features have been shown at the theater that the patrons could not agree on which was the best. The writer takes "Night World" because of its tenseness, its plot and the fact that things happen so quickly and surely in it.

"Love Affair" is the story of a rich girl who falls in love with her aviation teacher, ruins him as a man and then builds him back up again. Just when she thinks she has lost him, she finds him again.

THREE GUEST ARTISTS FOR SPANISH HOUR

Three distinguished guest artists will participate in the Spanish hour program tonight over radio KREG. This group of artists will be headed by Mrs. Dolores V. de Gallegos, composer. Other members of the group to entertain tonight are: Miss Maria Luisa Gallegos and Mrs. Mercedes Mantano.

These three artists have entertained for several radio stations in Arizona and Texas and Mrs. Gallegos, last year, won second and third places in the Tournament of Walthes held in Los Angeles.

Among the numbers she will present tonight are her prize-winning waltzes "El Ideal Olimpico" and "Guero De La Pastora." Mrs. Mantano will sing two numbers, "El Ultimo Beso" and "Yo Con Tu Amor."

These artists are coming to radio KREG through the courtesy of Los Madrugadores coffee.

Following the Spanish hour the studio will present another all-request program of electrical recordings featuring some of the outstanding artists of the day.

RADIO FEATURES

Two modern works and two old classics will be played by the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Sir Hamilton Hartly, noted English conductor, during the Standard Symphony Hour broadcast over a NBC network including KFI, between 8:15 and 9:45 o'clock tonight. The modern numbers are Richard Strauss' symphonic poem "Don Juan," and Arnold Bak's "Overture to a Picaresque Comedy." Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto No. 3 in G." The program is arranged for strings. The final number is Schubert's Symphony in C Major, the longest work in this form ever composed. Only a portion of this symphony may be heard over the air, since the broadcast must conclude at 9:45 o'clock sharp.

President Hoover's address of acceptance of the Republican nomination for Chief Executive of the United States will be heard internationally between 6 and 7 p. m. today. The speech, which will be delivered in Constitutional Hall, Washington, D. C., will be carried from coast to coast in the United States over a NBC network including KFI and KFSD and rebroadcast because of the international interest in what the president may have to say in formal-ly accepting the nomination. Everett Sanders, chairman of the Republican national committee, will introduce Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York, who will deliver the address of notification.

Walter Huston, Constance Cummings, Pat O'Brien and Kay Johnson, the four stars of Columbia Pictures' film "American Madness," will be heard during a broadcast over a transcontinental NBC network including KFSD from 8:15 to 8:45 p. m. today. During the broadcast, listeners will be taken behind the scenes on the set while the stars take their parts in presenting portions of their latest picture, "American Madness."

BEAN GROWERS IN ANNUAL MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, Aug. 11.—The regular annual meeting of the Garden Grove Bean Growers association was held in the office of the association this week. Not having a quorum, with only 39 members present, an informal discussion was held on business in general.

Harry Allen and E. A. Wakeham, members of the board of directors, not raising beans this year, dropped out of the association. Directors elected to fill their places are John McMillan and W. F. Preston. Those held over from last year were Edward Chaffee, president; J. A. Knapp, vice president and W. M. Adland, secretary.

The association handled 43,000 sacks of beans last year. These are practically all sold.

The acreage has been cut down so there will be a lighter crop next year. The outlook is for a better grade of beans. The season will open in September with one shift. The payroll for employees last year totaled $24,761.14.

The President of the United States does not have the constitutional power to pardon a prisoner of state.

ANN MEREDITH'S MIXING BOWL

Watch Animal Parents, and Learn Something

Human beings could nicely take a lesson from animal parents. Have you ever watched a fox terrier train her pups? It's interesting to see how she makes them rely on their own judgment, how she develops initiative and courage in the little fellows, often it seems at the cost of her own motherly inclinations.

I suppose that is instinct. It is too bad that some humans weren't given animal instinct rather than human right to judge and choose. There wouldn't be so many mistakes with inferiority complexes to clutter up the world. What difference does it make in the final accounting if your child does make mistakes? That's how the child has to learn. Let it make mistakes and then dig itself out, providing the mistake is not too far reaching, demanding adult interference.

I've never forgotten the lesson my mother gave me on that score when I was 10: A new summer dress of white embroidery was to be mine and I was sent to the shop with a note directing the merchant to give me so much of this and that. On the way I lost the note, the day was hot, and I decided to buy what I thought I'd like, and let the consequences follow after.

Well, the dress wasn't the artist's creation my mother had planned for me, and I was told about it, but it was made up and I had to wear it in contrast to the lovely one made for my sister. That lesson was a weekly reminder for the three years the dress lasted, and at 10 years old, three-year lessons do sink in.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Dill Pickles

Required number of small cucumbers to fill:
6 quart jars
1 quart cider vinegar
3 quarts water
1 cup salt
good sized piece of dill for each jar
1 clove garlic for each jar
1 hear many complaints about dill pickles not keeping well, that the cucumbers are hollow, or soggy, or something else, that is all wrong. I am inclined to think that the trouble lies in the cucumbers before they are pickled.

Select cucumbers about four inches long that have been picked not over 12 hours, consequently crisp and fresh and small enough to be sold throughout.

Wash them and pack stem end up in quart jars in each jar place a good sized piece of dill and one clove of garlic, peeled and pressed flat to release flavor.

Have the vinegar and water boiling hot, add salt and pour at once over the jars of cucumbers. Adjust the tops and turn upside down until cold.

Set the cold jars in hot water to slightly heat the glass, otherwise the boiling vinegar is apt to crack the jars.

Dill pickles, made after this recipe, have practically no food value. It would require at least 10 of them to make 100 calories, and even then they wouldn't mean anything. This is one place where the pleasantly plumps have it all their way.

... ..

Do you swish through the pages of a cook book, looking at such recipes as "popovers," "noodles timbales," and so on, wishing you could make them and have them turn out as the book describes. You can do just that by following the explicit directions found in the HOPE CHEST TREASURES recipes, and you may have the leaflet free of charge this week if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed with your letter.

FAY WRAY IN LEAD AT WALKER STATE

A fresh breeze from the open sea blew into Walker's State theater last night bringing with it one of the most invigorating dramas of quick, exciting action and breathless suspense ever shown in Santa Ana.

Universal's "Stowaway," laid for the most part in the colorful setting of a northwest freighter, tells an appealing story of a destitute little taxi dancer who loses her all-important job in a waterfront hall because she refuses to submit to the amorous advances of the customers. The virtue role of the young ship's officer is perfectly handled by a young actor, Leon Waycoff, who seems destined to go far. Montagu Love, the screen's outstanding "bad man," gives his usual convincing performance, and Lee Moran, Roscoe Karns, Betty Francisco and James Gordon all are at the peak of their form.

The other picture on the double bill is "Man Wanted," with Kay Francis and David Manners.

The mule deer is the largest found in the United States.

VANISHING FRONTIER STARS HERE FRIDAY

"The Vanishing Frontier," a story of the Old West, starring Johnny Mack Brown, with Evalyn Knapp, Zasu Pitts, Raymond Hatton and J. Farrell MacDonald in the featured cast, starts tomorrow at the Fox West Coast theater.

Brown is cast as a sort of Robin Hood of the period immediately following Old California's ceding to the United States by Mexico. A military government rules with cold harshness, and the state groans under its spurred heel, praying for the day when civil rule will replace it.

Brown, meanwhile, robs the rich to aid the poor, and in blithed defiance of the army, gets what he wants. But when he falls in love with Miss Knapp, daughter of a general; when her brother discovers the fact and is shot to death mysteriously while out "gunning" for Brown; and when she betrays her lover to the army, thinking him responsible for her brother's death, a dramatic and thrilling climax ensues.

Formal Opening For New Studio

Classes in the Hawaiian steel guitar and other native stringed instruments at the Russell Thompson Hawaiian studio at 1115 West Eighth street, were conducted this week in new surroundings, following the formal opening of the new studio by Thompson, instructor in steel guitar and kindred instruments.

The studio is given a quaint atmosphere by its decorative treatment in which the typical Hawaiian colors of orange and black are uppermost. Walls are literally covered with pictures of some of the native island scenes and others of talented pupils who have studied under the studio head. Added to this are leis, grass skirts, native carvings, and unique native musical instruments. For Monday's formal opening, many handsome flowers were sent by interested pupils and by business houses.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The Tinymites were fairly strong and so it didn't take them long to move the heavy boulder from the little monkey's tail.

"Twas when we Sooty cried, 'Heave ho,' that they all pushed and made it go. Although the monkey was thankful, it began to sulk and wall.

Its tail is hurt," kind Copy cried. "I'm going to hold it by my side and see if I can ease the pain." Then at the monkey he smiled, "Crawl right into my lap," he said. "I'll very gently hold your head. You needn't be afraid of me. I know that you're not wild."

The monkey crawled along the ground and soon a very soft spot found. It seemed real pleased to nestle close, and Copy liked it, too.

He rubbed the monkey's tail with care, a kindly act that seemed to please. "It's funny," said another, "what real kindness oft will do." "Sing it to sleep," said Windy. "I will also let my voice ring high."

"There is no use," said Copy, "he is sleeping round right now." "We'd best start out, at any cost, and look for Duncy, who's still lost. Perhaps we'll have to climb some trees. The monkey will show us how."

So, in about an hour or so one of the Tines shouted, "Oh, wake up, you lazy fellow. We are going to seek your aid." "A friend of ours is lost nearby. He may be in the trees up high. You lead the way. We'll follow. We are not one bit afraid."

The fellow eyed the Tiny crowd, and started chattering real loud. Then it sprang up a tree trunk. Sooty followed down m'way m'way Sooty shouted, "Here we go!" His vines were hanging near the trees and so the bunch crawled up with ease. "Where will this take us?" Windy cried. "That's what I'd like to know."

(The Tines get a real surprise in the next story.)

(a) Kicking a person with the idea of hurting him? A foul. (b) Speaking in public against religion? Preaching.

It is usual in France to partake of a little coup de grace at the beginning of some meals.

Amazing Education of Jesse Liston

BLIND and DEAF SINCE BIRTH

With only two of the five senses, this "boy without a chance" has learned to read, write, talk and find enjoyment in life

Superintendent O. M. Pittenger, of the Indiana State School for the Deaf . . . who says, "Today Jesse is a very happy boy."

Sketches by PAUL KROESEN

BORN into the world without the ability to see or hear, Jesse Liston has reached the age of 18 with a remarkable triumph over his handicaps.

Apparently hopelessly cut off from the world about him, he has taken advantage of the careful training given him by skilled teachers, so that today he can read, write, carry on conversations with his friends and get a surprising amount of enjoyment out of life.

Not since the story of Helen Keller has there been so amazing a tale of victory over the curses of darkness and silence.

Jesse Liston's story has unfolded during the last few years at the Indiana State School for the Deaf, where he is one of the 435 pupils.

Born at Logansport, Ind., he had only two of the five senses—the sense of touch and the sense of taste. He could neither see, hear nor smell.

For the first 10 years of his life he existed rather than lived. His parents tried repeatedly to get him into state schools for the handicapped, and failed.

AUTHORITIES at the school for the deaf pointed out that he was blind, and authorities at the school for the blind pointed out that he was deaf. Neither school felt itself equipped to care for him. So he stayed at home and got very little help.

Finally his pitiable plight was brought to the attention of the then governor of Indiana, Warren T. McCray.

Governor McCray summoned Superintendent O. M. Pittenger of the State School for the Deaf at Indianapolis to the chief executive's office at the state house. He urged that, if at all possible, something be done for the Liston boy.

Superintendent Pittenger went to Logansport to see the parents and visit the boy at his home. He found the 10-year-old child hopelessly in the dark and the parents, although cherishing him as most handicapped children are cherished, at a loss to know how to aid his development.

So the boy was brought to Indianapolis and started his career at the school.

Then, as in the case of Helen Keller, the blind boy who cannot hear came into contact with a great teacher and self-sacrificing friend.

DURING the last eight years Miss Nettie Newell has devoted her life to him. She gave up her deaf classes at the school and became the boy's constant companion, as well as teacher.

The following item from Miss Newell's diary gives some idea of the beginning:

"I could not get his interest or attention, so I continued letting him lie sprawled on the floor in front of the wall ventilator, opening and closing it with a vengeance. His hands and face were all smeared with soot and dirt from his investigations of it. He was enjoying the vibrations of that ventilator upon his body. I was enduring the pistol-like shots of it in my ear."

Such explorations were extended for weeks.

One of the most fascinating experiments proved to be the tracing of steam pipes to their source at the radiator and learning that they can be cold, warm, and intensely hot.

Today the blind boy can go anywhere in the group of seven buildings at the school and about the many-acre campus unassisted. Oftentimes his teacher will send him from the second-floor classroom down to the superintendent's office with a note for Mr. Pittenger.

None of the young lady assistants, who guard the entry to the inner sanctum of the superintendent's office, ever gets a hand on that note. It is only surrendered to the superintendent after Jesse has fully established proper identity through his highly developed sense of touch.

HERE is what Superintendent Pittenger says of the boy's progress since the date of the diary entry quoted above:

"The lad as we know him today is a very happy boy. He knows that he comes to school for a purpose, and he is eager to learn. His horizon grows larger very slowly, for his progress depends so much upon his personal experiences.

"His sense of geography began with a trip we made with him to Terre Haute, Ind. He had his first understanding of distance in miles after this trip from Indianapolis.

"Miss Newell brought the idea of distance home to him in the following manner:

"First they walked from the schoolroom to the chapel and counted their steps. Then they walked to the neighborhood barber shop,

Jesse can operate his typewriter skillfully now.

Jesse Liston as he looks today . . . reaching out to "feel the sunshine."

counting their steps, and learning the distance of a block. From this a mile's distance was built up in city blocks. The great distance of 70 miles to Terre Haute soon became quite clear to him.

"When he knows where one direction lies he can point to the other three as well as to the cardinal points."

TODAY Jesse has a vocabulary of 2000 words at least and he understands much more than he is able to express, although he is constantly striving for greater expression.

intendent, give him the typewriter and have him take it away in his automobile for repairing so that he could use it again.

Weather, time and dates all seem to fascinate the lad immensely. He has an alarm clock by which he tells time through feeling out the position of the hands.

ON fine days he spends much time basking in the sunshine with his hands stretched forth to "get the feel of it," as his teacher explains.

Early in his instruction he learned to say "It is raining," or "It is not raining," "It is snowing" or "It is not snowing," and similar expressions.

Again he forcibly demonstrated his logic when he went to the washroom and rushed back to Miss Newell and spelled out frantically:

"It is not soaping!"

In other words, the soap was gone.

Jesse lives with the other students in the boys' dormitory and gets along well with them. All use the sign language and he carries on conversations by feeling their hands.

"Seven years in school have changed him from a restless, nervous, never quiet child to a poised and happy little gentleman," Miss Newell relates with just pride.

The devoted teacher who brought light into a dark life . . . Miss Nettie Newell, who has been Jesse Liston's teacher and friend.

"He finds joy from some source day by day. In the late spring of last year a teacher came into the schoolroom and held a large bunch of lilacs close enough to him that he might reach out and feel them. The flowers stirred him emotionally, as the teacher expressed it. Tender smiles played over his countenance and his eyes filled with tears. No, we need not pity Jesse. He lives in a world of unmarred beauty."

Miss Newell's diary contains a complete record of her pupil's progress. When some particularly startling advance has been made it means a red-letter day and is recorded at length.

One of these red-letter days was when Jesse said his first word. It was "arm." Most amazing of all is the fact that he actually spoke the word. That was his first year at the school.

But due to his advanced age, hope of teaching him to use the power of speech to any great extent had to be abandoned. This is explained by Professor Pittenger as being due to the fact that deaf-mutes are taught to talk largely by watching the facial expression of their teachers and learning the method of controlling the lips.

They practice speaking before mirrors. These avenues of visual instruction were of course closed forever for the little blind boy.

SO he has to content himself with the sign language for the deaf.

He has demonstrated his prowess in digital talking to such an extent that he is really adept at public speaking. His public usually cannot understand his lectures until they are interpreted by his teacher, for generally his speeches are demonstrations before teacher groups and welfare gatherings.

He has appeared on the platform at general sessions of the Indiana teachers' institutes, which draw the largest attendance of any educational gathering in North America.

Lately he has gone with Dr. Pittenger to various luncheon club meetings in Hoosier cities and expresses great enjoyment at the opportunity to appear in public.

Such a visit to the Lions' Club at Richmond, Ind., recently, resulted in the club's purchase of especially constructed spectacles for the youth. His eyes bulge and are the only feature which detracts from a perfectly normal, rather handsome, and exceedingly calm countenance.

HIS typewriter was presented to him by the Elks' Club at Logansport.

During the vacation periods at the school he always returns to his home accompanied by his parents. Then they have all the joy that comes to any parent who has children away at school.

Professor Pittenger is wary about drawing any general conclusions from the Liston boy's case, but he does feel that it has been demonstrated that many difficulties are environmental, rather than hereditary.

"Our bad habits are formed through our senses and our worries come to us because of things we have heard or seen, or otherwise experienced through the senses," Dr. Pittenger concludes.

"Here is a youth of 18, who has not had the normal experiences of other youngsters, due to his tremendous handicaps, and consequently remains unworried by them."

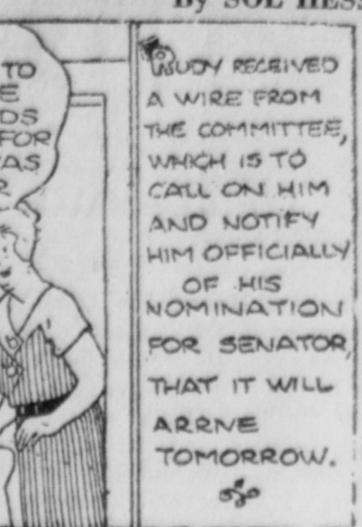

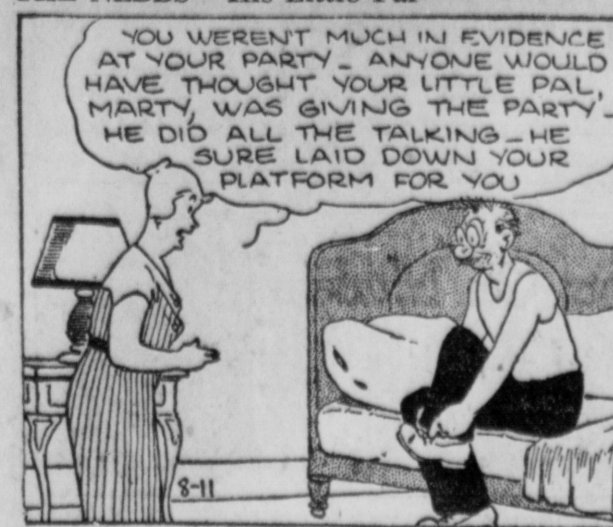

As far as is known the Liston boy is an exceptional case in that he is being cared for and developed in a regular state institution instead of getting cared for at home.

But there are some 600 such handicapped persons, children and adults, in the United States today, Dr. Pittenger said.

"When I hear persons with good health and all the five senses complaining as much as they do, I marvel at the patience of these people like Jesse Liston, who, 'sent forth into this world of sorrow scarce half made up, bear their burden bravely and greet each day with a smile,' he philosophizes.

PEOPLES' INTERESTS BEST PROTECTED BY THEMSELVES

Spain has apparently just put down another monarchist revolt, and claims to have things well in hand. We were very happy for a number of years, thinking that all the people of the world were headed toward Democracy, and that nothing could head them off. Nation after nation either changed its form, or seemed in the very process of so doing, but yet in these recent days, we are having it impressed strongly upon us that people do not change so rapidly. Democracy is of slow growth.

We can remember when we predicted that China had changed in a night. It is still in the throes of change. Germany became a republic, but the reaction has long ago set in, and it is nearing one-man rule, if it has not already reached that point. Spain turned its ruler out, but the monarchists seem to have a greater number of adherents. Italy had a tremendous uprising, but in the personality of Mussolini, dictatorship has reached the zenith of its power.

The great masses of people are looking after their general welfare. Where does it lie? They are pilfered and robbed in one way under a certain form of government, and then the same thing happens under another form of government. The trouble always is, in this pilfering and robbing, that the people turn the matters over to somebody else and imagine that those other people are going to look after their welfare. There are few men sufficiently altruistic to trust with the welfare of others. Unquestionably a democracy or a republic is the best means of the people reaching their end, but when they have elected servants, they should keep their eyes concentrated on them, and change them frequently, so that the servants will not turn into the bosses.

It is not the form of government that should be changed, but those who are selected to administer it should be made constantly to know that the people are alert, and they can continue only as long as they protect the people's interest. The difficulty is, of course, that the people are deceived as to their interest. Lincoln said: "You can fool some of the people all the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you cannot fool all the people all the time." Unfortunately, too many of them can be fooled most of the time.

New York youth was sentenced to 15 years for stealing an apple. Which just goes to show how much Adam and Eve got away with.

MAYOR WALKER'S MOB

Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York arrived in Albany amidst a cheering mob of friends, to have his hearing before the Governor today. When one reads the facts concerning such characters as Mr. Walker, and then notes the mobs that cheer him on, one is almost prompted to lose faith in democracy.

Regardless of straight standards of public conduct; regardless of the facts which are brought out, this blind personal attachment and partisanship seems to be unswerving in its power to retain, challenge, and even electrify certain classes of people. We have always indulged the belief that when the people knew the facts, that right and fair dealing and good government principles would win.

We will have to make an exception, we are afraid. The exceptions will be New York and Chicago. What is needed there is some strict adherents to the spirit, as well as to the letter of the commandment, "Thou shalt not steal."

A gentleman one time said that he always admired Theodore Roosevelt because: "Theodore," he said, "is so plumb sure that he discovered the Ten Commandments." We wish that the present Governor of New York, fifth cousin of Theodore, would be stirred by some of the spirit that would be in a man who had actually discovered the basic principles involved in those commandments.

MR. HEARST UPHOLDS MAYOR WALKER

We notice that Mr. Hearst has taken the first page of his paper in the last two days to editorialize on behalf of Mayor Walker's retention as Mayor of the city of New York. The tremendous power that Mr. Hearst exerts with the people of this country, and particularly in the metropolitan area, will undoubtedly add to the embarrassment of Governor Roosevelt, if he is inclined to the position that Mr. Walker is unfit to continue as Mayor of New York City.

Mr. Hearst can prate about democracy all he pleases, but democracy operates under law, and the law provides that under the conditions which undoubtedly prevail in this case, the governor shall have the right of the removal of the mayor of a city. There are some things which democracy itself cannot do under law.

A Supreme court has long ago said that no legislature has the right to bargain away the public health and public morals, and added "the people themselves cannot do it, much less their servants." And the restrictions have been so thrown around democracy's operation, that should the people of an entire city choose corruption rather than right living; choose graft and bribery in the place of straight business, that even they cannot conduct their affairs in this manner.

The restrictions provide that the minority who are trying to live honest and straight lives, and square their conduct with moral principles, shall be protected by the law of the state in the conduct of their affairs, even in a city where the majority have joined an organization for corruption, graft and bribery. Just why Mr. Hearst takes this position on behalf of Mayor Walker, under the guise of letting a city run its affairs as it chooses, we do not know. But it is well that the law provides an avenue whereby truth and honor, justice and square dealing shall have an outlet. And Mr. Hearst would close up that outlet.

LOOKS LIKE NIGHTMARE IS OVER

Stocks continue to rise, commodity prices are going up, and business seems to have a good outlook. The corner seems to have been reached and turned. We hope and trust that we are marching along Prosperity Avenue.

Explanations are many. It is claimed that banks and great monied interests are manufacturing this situation. It may have been that they had something to do with starting it, but certainly it has reached far beyond any small group now.

From various sources we get evidences of increases in wholesale business. We notice that Carson, Scott and Company of Chicago, declared yesterday that they had their biggest day in two years. More than 1600 merchants, from every part of the country, registered at the wholesale house. The news of cotton buyers in the cotton mills is tremendously encouraging.

Well, if business is going up, we will tell the world that we can stand it.

Some hotels rate high, says the office sage, and others have high rates.

Simple Life Is Given Impetus

The Pasadena Star-News

One of the fruits of "hard times" is enforced simple living. It is too bad to have simple living forced on the people. And yet there is much good in simple living. Civilization has done a vast deal to contribute to the welfare and comfort of mankind. But civilization also has brought evil upon mankind in some ways. The temptation to go to excesses in eating, and drinking, and in luxurious living is one of the banal fruits of civilization.

In times of normal prosperity men, women and children eat too much for bodily and mental health. Americans are an intemperate people in the matter of eating. Untold multitudes are carried to premature graves in this country from intemperance and bad judgment in eating.

There are other forms of immorality typical of Americans. Many work too much without recreation. Many do not work enough. Many keep such hours as to impair health. Many worry too much. Out there in the cemetery lie great numbers whose epitaph, if truthful, would say that the silent slumberer went to his or her death from worrying. This course of worry robs life of its sweetness and serenity.

Civilization, take back your luxuries, your excesses, your intemperances! Take back the harrowing complexities which you have put into human life! Take back your worries!

Let's go back to simple living. Let's jaunt back to the primitive in habits, and yet retain the really good things which civilization, science, invention and progress have brought to mankind! Let's not hurry so much; let's take time to live!

Now that the nation's two big national parties are baffled, there's talk of a third. And no one knows what will come forth.

Respect Others If You Are to Benefit From Travel

San Bernardino Sun

A writer of popular and helpful travel books gives 20 rules for travelers in her latest work. All of these are useful. A few are so good they ought to be impressed on every journey-maker, whether he is merely going into the next state or around the world.

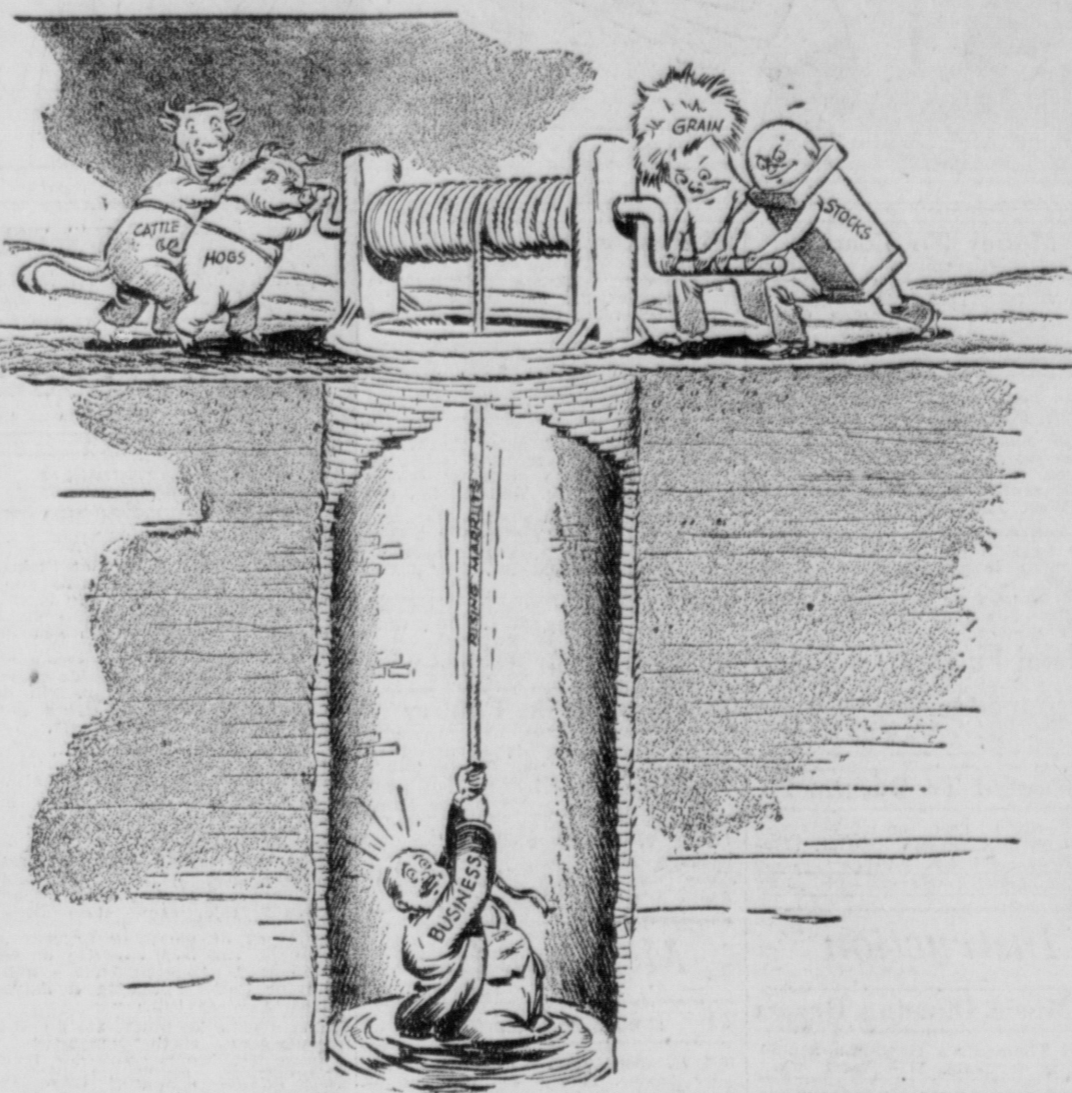

The first rule is merely a travel version of the Golden Rule—to do abroad what one would like to have foreign visitors do in one's own country. Then comes the sage advice to travel in order to learn how things are done elsewhere, not to declaim how much better everything is done at home.

"Don't act as if you had mental arthritis and couldn't bend," says the author. "One of the reasons for going abroad is to see how flexible you are." And finally:

"The best League of Nations is that of travelers seeking to find much in common with their hosts."

In other words, behave when traveling as you do when visiting friends, respect the habits and customs of those whom you visit, be interested in their interests, be friendly and courteous. High-hatting the natives in a foreign land or a strange community because their ways are not your ways shows provincialism. The benefits of travel cannot begin to take effect while such an attitude is maintained.

More Truth Than Poetry

THE OLD URGE

I'd like to be a farmer,
A patient, plodding farmer,
And till the soil
With healthful toil,
Which earned my board and bed;
To plant wide loamy reaches
With plums and pears and peaches,
And watch the sun,
When day was done,
Descending, round and red.

The fragrant hay I'd hustle
To build up bone and muscle,
I'd eat my rube
But healthful food
While sitting by the plough,
And know the avid hunger
Of many men far younger,
And feel the blood
Within me thud;
It only flutters now.

I'd find a situation
To build my habitation
Where I might see,
Beyond a tree,
A river rippling down.
From care my soul I'd sever,
Happening there forever
If I had got
A rural spot
Not too darned far from town.

We was eating supper and ma said to pop, Willyum, what do you think of a woman that's always and forever trying to induce her husband to take out more life insurers?

I think she's a fool and a grave robber, pop said, and ma said, I thoroughly agree with you. That's the kind of a woman Maud Hews is getting to be. She's after poor Yewstace morning noon and nite to take out another big policy, till poor Yewstace hardly knows which shoe to stand on. I think it's very selfish and inconsiderate of her, not to say indelicate to the last extreme of the word. I think if a man wants to take out more life insurers in his wife's name he awt to think of it for himself and do it of his own pure volition, don't you, Willyum? she said.

I do indeed, rather, that's the sort of thing a man is best qualified to know about and act on for himself, pop said, and ma said, That's what I think, you hit my very nail on the head. I'd be the last woman in the world to try to sway my husband in that direction, and I told Maud Hews as much in so many words. But the intruding part of it is, she has an insurants man who's a positive wonder. He use to be an actor and it's a positive treat in itself just to hear him talk. In fact he's more like a great public speaker than an insurants agent. I thawt it mite be amusing for you to hear him some time, ma said.

Nothing doing, by all means no, pop said, and ma said, Well, you never can tell, Willyum. Anyway, he's coming Wednesday evening, she said.

Well he wont find me home, you can enjoy the whole show by yourself, blast it to blinking blazes, pop said. And I'm going around to the bowling alley rite now and wear myself to such a frazzle in this heat that no insurants docter would pass me anyway, he said.

And he quick put on his hat and coat and went out.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

ECONOMY AND THE SCHOOLS

For several days this week I have been dealing with the contention that, in our present profound concern with economy in public expenditures, we must be sure that it is real rather than bogus economy we are practicing.

Although as a schoolman, I may be suspected of special pleading, I want today to sound a word of warning that we are in grave danger of ridding the program of our school system and beating down the salary level of the teaching profession to a point that will mean a distinct lowering of the quality of men and women who will enter the teaching profession in the years immediately ahead.

Today I want to do no more than call four distinguished Americans to the witness stand and let them testify to the soundness of this contention.

In February, 1932, Herbert Hoover made the following statement:

"However the national economy may vary or whatever fiscal adjustments may need be made, the very first obligation upon the national resources is the undiminished financial support of the public schools. We cannot afford to lose any ground in education. That is neither economy nor good government."

In March, 1932, Gifford Pinchot made the following statement:

"Even in these difficult times we must see to it that children shall not become the innocent victims of a mismanaged society."

BEING MODERN

"Going modern," has become a term of reproach. The idea that the ways of the newer generation are not the best ways has taken root in the minds of many people. A noisy restless group of younger people are responsible for this because they have flouted all that came out of the past simply because it was old. To these misguided young folk to be old fashioned was unthinkable and to be new, "modern" of all things the most desirable.

Life goes forward from generation to generation and it would be sad indeed if each period did not make its contribution to the whole accomplishment of time. It would be sadder if any generation had it in its power to discard permanently anything of good the race had gathered through the years. There is no danger of this happening because God has the quality of eternity and, whatever of Good we achieve stays.

What is Good? I think all experiences that enable men to live happily, in peace with each other, in harmony with life, all experiences that help them to work nobly for the progress of the race, are Good. Some of this Good is common to all of us. Without it we are certain to come to grief. In this Good, I should count the old fashioned virtues of truth, honor, industry, loving kindness. Added to them, good manners and character qualities.

As like politeness, courtesy, good form in all things. I would count temperance as one of the chief of old fashioned virtues and I would strongly advise that it be taught all children from birth down to old age. Temperance in all things, even in being and doing good.

The young people who like to think of themselves as modern and so feel called upon to scorn the old and honorable teachings of their fathers are sowing the seeds of sorrow and the parents and teachers who stand by helplessly must feel somewhat responsible for the results. It is we who have to defend the ancient landmarks, uphold what of Good we know and direct the children toward better ends. I believe it was our own excesses, our own disregard of standards, of simplicities, that misled the young people who have made this mistake. We are suffering for our sins and the best thing for us to do now is to pick ourselves up out of the ashes, admit our error and start afresh, this time taking the children with us along the straight and narrow way, bare and hard though it be.

Teach the children to honor the truth wherever they meet it. Teach them to stand by helplessly to one's fellow man. The child who is to be a leader should come first in one's thoughts. Point out to them that the purest selfishness is that which considers itself last. To that one all else is added and he becomes wealthy, powerful, serene through that which he surrendered. He gains in power as he serves.

This is no lesson for babies. It is meant for strong men. We who have been through the stress and storm of life know its implications and its full power. When we turn from duty we face pain. When we love we lose. When we are intemperate that which we value most turns to dust and ashes. Be as modern as we will we can progress only by the old road of Good and that means we discard only the useless from our experiences and hold fast to that which we have proven to be Good.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped addressed envelope for reply.)
